The referees are to report on the advantage thereof to the King's service and to the public. Prefixing: (a) said petition shewing that at great cost and charges they have invented a woven wire engine most advantageous for the use of bakers, millers, mealmen, garblers, glassmen and such professions, for the bolting, dressing, sifting and cleansing of dust or dross from all spices or metals, far beyond any ways or means heretofore used or practised nor never yet known in this kingdom of England, the advantage whereof will be great to smiths, etc., and instead of using foreign manufactory for such uses will settle a manufactory in this kingdom. Therefore pray a patent for 14 years. (b) Reference dated Feb. 8 inst. thereof from the King to the Attorney General. (c) Report dated Feb. 13 from Sir R. Sawyer. 	Report by same to the King on the petition of Hannah, relict of Jno. Billingsley, late of London, vintner, supra, p. 267. By indenture dated 1668, Aug. 18, John Wadlow, Tho. Coates, Jno. Billingsley, Jno. Sawyer, Richard Kensey, Thom. Blagrave, Jno. Henderson, Thom. Dios, William Hargrave and Richard Dormer made agreement with Charles II for collecting the first 310,000*l.* Wine Act. Tho said undertakers failing to perform their part Charles II did in 1671 exhibit an English bill in the Exchequer against them to which they answered and were ordered to account before an Auditor. Upon tho stating said account it appeared that 25,475*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.* remained in their hands due to the King besides 22,405*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.* which they craved to be allowed for orders charged upon said account which they pretended to have satisfied, and were ready to be delivered into the Exchequer to be cancelled. But as same were never brought into Court it was afterwards decreed that they should answer to the King for both said sums making 47,881*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* in all. By the best inquiry that can be made petitioner's husband did not intermeddle in the receipt of the money arising by the said imposition, but being himself a vintner did (as appears by several acquittances and cancelled bonds) pay tho moneys due for his own wines to said Wadlow and Sawyer, who are the persons that appear to have been receivers of the money	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 219–20

1685–6. Feb. 24.	Henry Guy to the Customs Commissioners. Treasurer Rochester has read Mr. Sanson's letter of yesterday concerning the Earl of Peterborough's pictures. 	Treasurer Rochester to [the Justices of Peace in co. ———]. The sub-collectors of Hearthmoney have met with much opposition and disturbance from Justices of Peace in the several counties in receiving and levying the said revenue on pretence of several objections which the said justices do make on several clauses in the Hearthmoney Acts, although most of the points on which the said objections are raised have been formerly settled by judgments at law. The points so raised are as follow, and on these points the Hearthmoney Commissioners have by my direction presented to me their answers thereto as follow: (1) That the said sub-collectors levy the duty on landlords for houses that stand empty. Answer. By the Act of 14 Car. II, c. 10, every firehearth in every house, edifice, chamber and lodging is charged with the duty except those afterwards excepted, and an empty is not excepted; and upon a special verdict in a cause between the Company of Ironmongers in London and Naylor it has been adjudged by the whole Court of King's Bench that a firehearth in an empty house is chargeable. (2) That they levy the duty on the smiths for their forges in their smithy shops. Answer. Its pretended to be excepted by the said Act under the word 'blowing house.' But a smith's forge was never called nor understood to be a blowing house and upon a special verdict [in the case] of one Bull, an anchorsmith in Southwark, it was adjudged by the whole Court of King's Bench that a smith's forge was chargeable to the duty. (3) That they levy the duty on innkeepers, alehousekeepers and bakers for their ovens. Answer. The words of exception [in the abovesaid Act] are 'private ovens within any of the houses' charged by said Act. Now if a profit be made by the oven by the owner being a public innkeeper or alehousekeeper it's conceived that makes it a public oven and so not within the exception. (4) That they levy the duty on the landlords for their tenements and cottages let to persons exempt from payment of the duty by reason of their poverty. Answer. It's true by the said Act that where a landwaiter [sic for landlord] let a house to a tenant whether poor or rich he was not chargeable with the duty while the house was in possession of the tenant. But by the Act of 16 Car. II, c. 3, if a landlord after the year 1663 let a house or cottage in which are not more than two chimneys to any person who may pretend to be exempted by any clause in the Act of 14 Car. II, c. 10, then such landlord is chargeable. (5) That they levy the duty on private persons for their firehearths where there is an oven or furnace in the same chimney. Answer. If the chimney be used to make fire in it for any other use than raking the coals out of the oven or furnace	Ibid, pp. 280–1.

Date.	Nature and Substance of the Entry.	Reference.
1685–6.	it is a distinct firehearth and chargeable though the house or furnace be not chargeable. (6) That they levy the duty for firehearths in new houses and for firehearths discovered, before [said items] be [certified or] returned into the Exchequer. Answer. The duty arises and is charged by the Act of 14 Car. II, c. 10, and not by the return made into the Exchequer and the duty is due and leviable to the King though no return be ever made. But this very point was adjudged in the King's Bench in the aforementioned case of the Ironmongers versus Naylor. (7) That they levy the goods of landlords and occupiers of houses which [goods] are not on the premises from whence the duty arises. Answer. Both the above Acts direct that the duty and arrears shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods of the party neglecting or refusing and do not tie the distress to the house or premises as in case of a real charge. This point was also adjudged in the above case of the Ironmongers versus Naylor, for there the case was that the Ironmongers were possessed of several new-built houses uninhabited in the Ward of Bread Street, London, in which were several firehearths, and the officer made the distress at Ironmongers' Hall in the Ward of Aldgate for the duty. In pursuance of the King's command the Lord Chancellor has met all the Judges of England, except Baron Atkins, who was sick, and having with them considered the said points and the several Acts of Parliament relating to the Hearthmoney they have certified that they are all clearly of opinion (the Attorney and Solicitor General being present and agreeing) that the Hearthmoney Commissioners did in the above give a full and legal answer to the said objections. After all this I hope no doubt will remain with you in any of these points. I desire that the said revenue hereafter receive no prejudice under colour thereof but that you will give all just encouragement to the officers in collecting same. (Memorandum : there were 77 more of the same [letter of the] same date with the above ; all delivered to Mr. Noell [for despatch into the country].)

(7) All houses or chimneys that are building are to be taken notice of by the collectors and entered; but where a hearth has continued unlaid for more than one half year and is charged for a hearth, the collector is to give answer in the blank place in the folio. (15) Whenever they find a house with a wrong [tenant's] name they are to immediately enter the name of the present possession. (16) The returns are to be made according to the several articles in the abstract paper and all answers clearly entered in the books according to the heads of the articles. (17) The collector in his return is to carefully distinguish between an increase and a discovery and nothing is to be allowed to be a discovery but upon oath [that] such chimney had been erected and laid above two years and where three half years' [arrears of duty] are brought in. Sackville that Flynn behaved himself therein with great diligence and ability and he received said allowance under their governorships. As to his dismissal in 1682, April, by Col. Kirke it appears that on Capt. White's death Col. Kirke appointed Capt. Davies to be Town Major and afterwards Capt. Hope "the petitioner not being thought qualified by the said Colonel Kirke to hold either that place or a Lieutenant's employ then offered him by reason of his refusing to take the oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy." Both Lieut. Davies and Major Hope held double employments, the former as Lieutenant to 1683, April 1, and the latter as Lieutenant of a Company in England "and Town Major at Tangier from that time to the demolishing of the said place." It is therefore submitted to your Majesty whether any part of their 10*s.* a day should be paid to said Flynn.

	Appending : (a) memorial to the King from Edward Carleton, Knight Harbinger. Your Majesty made me Knight Harbinger jointly with Mr. Dilks, commanding me to let Dilks be an equal sharer in all the profits of that place. I have waited last summer alone and done all the duties of the place. I applied to the Lord Chamberlain for an order for my wages and riding wages, but find there is nothing settled upon me nor is my name or office mentioned in any establishment of the Household, nor have I received one farthing as Knight Harbinger. Your Majesty also made me sole Gentleman Harbinger, there having been three in that office in the late King's reign. I have done the whole duty of the three, but am abridged of the riding wages and cut off 21*l.* per an. less than my predecessors. In consideration thereof your Majesty ordered that the pensions allowed to the Harbingers that were reduced should upon their death come to the Gentleman Harbinger and Yeomen Harbingers to compensate for their retrenchment. But upon the death of Mr. Evans, Gentleman Harbinger, the officers of the Greencloth have ordered that all the pensions of Harbingers shall descend to the three Yeomen Harbingers and exclude me, their superior,

I am likewise abridged of the fees due to me for Homages and Installations which my predecessors received, but now the Yeomen Harbingers have them and exclude me and these Yeomen receive more than double fees of honour than what they did formerly. I therefore pray a determination what wages and riding wages shall be allowed to the Knight Harbinger (there being now two of us, though formerly but one); also what riding wages to me as the Gentleman Harbinger and to my assistant and what is to be the dividend of the Harbingers' pensions as they die; also that Sir Thomas Duppa be ordered to pay me my Homage fees and Installation fees "and whether the Yeomen Harbingers must receive any greater fees than formerly": also that my name and office bo inserted in the establishment of the Household.

The Levant Company wrote me in April last that they had appointed some to meet you to consult hereon. But I hear nothing from you since. I desire you to seriously consider as to the remedies for so great a mischief. The King is at very considerable charge in keeping out two small vessels on this purpose only, and I am informed that several very considerable clothiers would voluntarily contribute a proportion upon every cloth exported (that might rise to a good sum) if they were satisfied in the methods to be used to prevent the said export of sheep, wool and woolfells. It seems to me it lies pretty close to your door to propose something effectual for so good a work.

The lands are called Princes Meadow and contain 24 acres together with the Thames bank, wharves and osier grounds next the Thames, containing about four acres more. They are all parcel of the demesnes of the manor of Kennington and have been granted to petitioner by several leases since the restoration : and there being several dwelling houses built in the time of the late usurpation upon the said Thames bank, the whole was surveyed and valued at 371*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* and on petitioner's first lease 1661–2, Feb. 18, an improved rent of 176*l.* 5*s.* 0*d. per an.* was reserved and petitioner undertook many suits for recovery of parts of the premises especially for the ground and house where the King's old bargehouse stood at the north-east corner of the premises, which by some defect in said lease was supposed to be adjudged against him. Upon his second lease dated 1671, June 8, that old bargehouse and land by it was more fully expressed, yet after another action he could not recover possession, though in all probability it doth in truth belong to his Majesty. This sceeond leaso was under the like rent of 176*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* and fine of 390*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* In June, 1676, he petitioned for a third lease which was rated at the same rent and fine of 150*l.* but by Treasurer Danby's warrant dated 1676, July 14, it was ordered to be passed for 31 years and the rent of 176*l.* 5*s.* 0*d. per an.* to be reduced to 16*l.* 10*s.* 9*d. per an.* being the ancient rent reserved for the whole manor and demesnes of the manor of Kennington before the rebellion in 1642, "and to be passed without fine (which was then estimated to be about 2,000*l.*) in consideration of the petitioner's services and sufferings," and of his charges in said law suits. Said lease was granted 1676, Aug. 6, to Richard Raw, gent., at Arundell's nomination.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 248–9.

Kirke appointed one Mr. Roch as Captain, and mustered him as such and though Roch is dead he [Roch] was continued on the muster roll for six months after the date of petitioner's commission, which obstructs petitioner's receiving the pay for said six months: therefore prays to be inserted in the muster rolls from the date of his commission.	Reference Book III, p. 289.

The town of Coventry claimed the perpetuity in the premises by patent from Queen Elizabeth, but after long suits same was avoided "upon the case of his Majesty's title to the Duchy of Cornwall whereof the premises are parcel": Sir Robert Townshend [thereon] obtained separate leases of the premises from the late King, but same were joined together in one lease 1676, Aug. 1, with some small parcels of land adjoining the Little Park which [parcels] he was later enforced to allow to the town for 7*s. per an.*, above the 44*s. per an.*, for the better quieting the inhabitants and for the benefit of their poor. I cannot find that the premises were surveyed or sold by the usurpers, they being favourers of that city and so I presume they admitted their title thereto. The whole, as I have heard, is valued at about 200*l. per an.* above the	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 280–1.

Petitioner is his son and heir. I advise a fine of 200*l.* for renewal, in regard of his father's said great charges ; petitioner being to be still obliged to assign to the city of Coventry the Little Park and other parcels of land upon the like terms as they are now enjoyed.

	Same by same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Cha. Lock, deputy to Sir John Shaw, Surveyor of the Navigation Act ; petitioner shewing that he seized the ship Violet of Yarmouth Mar. 31 last for not being navigated with three-fourths English mariners, but under order he consented to deliver the lading on payment of aliens' duty : desires leave to prosecute the master for swearing that all his mariners were English so as to avoid the seizure and the payment of aliens' duty.	Ibid, p. 308.

Norfolk he preferred the late and present King's interest in all elections and at his own charges prosecuted the disloyal aldermen of Norwich, for which he was prosecuted, imprisoned and suffered many hardships; that in 1682 at his own charge he prosecuted Rich. Smith, Sir James Johnson et al. to conviction and is still 150*l.* out on that prosecution: that of his own knowledge and by certain information he knows that in the last five years in the shrievalties of Tho. Bransby, John Knivett, John Green, Henry Skelton and Sir Francis Guyborn, kt., there have been several sums levied and nichils returned and no money paid into the Exchequer and the sheriffs discharged [thereupon in their accounts]: therefore prays a grant thereof for his past services: said petition being referred from the King April 11 inst.

[?]	Same by same to same of the petition of Phi. Fowler, shewing that his ship was seized by one Lock, a discoverer [informer] after his crew was examined and due entry made of his ship in the Custom House "the said Mr. Lock finding that one of the petitioner's crew was a Scotch man pretends that he is not a free born subject within the rules for the Act of Navigation": therefore prays a discharge of said seizure to prevent his ruin.	Ibid, p. 310.
April 24.	Same by same to same of the petition of Hen. Vaughan for a coastwaiter's place [London port] loco one Golding, removed to be landwaiter.	Ibid.
	Same by same to Cha. Toll, Cha. Twitty, William Lowndes, Tho. Townsend and Humphry Dove, of the petition of Tho. April 24.	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to the Navy Commissioners of the petition of Geo. Solby, the late King's sworn apothecary, shewing that he had a reference lately upon some Navy bills due to him "which bills and reference were surreptitiously gotten out of the hands of Mr. Langford by a person that had no propriety or right therein, but only maliciously to prevent and withhold from your petitioners their just pretensions," the said person having now absconded : therefore prays an order to the Navy Commissioners to renew said bills according to the entries in their books.	Reference Book III, p. 311.
	Same by same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Henry Keates for a landwaiter's place, London port loco Sam. Nobbs, who is willing to resign, petitioner having served two years at Barking, but not having his health there.	Ibid.

	Same by same to same of the petition of Francis Gorman, late of Tangier, kinsman and executor of John White, late town major of Tangier, praying for the moneys due to said White from Col. Kirke and Capt. St. John to be similarly stopped in said Hewer's hands.	Ibid.

April 24.	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Robt. Mirfin for a tidesman's or landwaiter's place, he having served as such, but having got an extreme cold by lying on board at Liverpool, whereby he was incapacitated and has been out of employ 15 months.	Reference Book III, p. 313.
	Same by same to William Hewer of the petition of Eliz. Mortershed, widow, of Ralph Mortershed, for payment of 11*l.* 12*s.* 2½*d.* due to her late husband for his work at the Mould [Mole] and fortifications at Tangier.	Ibid.
	Same by same to Sir Rich. Haddock of the petition of John Barnes, seaman, and now prisoner in Whitechapel prison; shewing that he had a ticket for 36 months' service on the Tyger prize, "which [ticket] was put into the [Navy] Office; that the said ticket was taken out and is now in the custody of John Keave or John Allen, who will not part with it unless he yield to their unreasonable demands": therefore prays that they be ordered to bring said ticket into the Navy [Office] so that petitioner may have his money and not perish.	Ibid.
	Same by same to Tho. Agar, Surveyor General of Woods, Trent South, of the petition of John Legg, esq., for repairs in Wychwood Forest; petitioner shewing that the fences to every lodge are so destroyed that the deer break in.	Ibid, p. 314.

	Same by same to William Blathwayte of the petition of Lord Colepeper: petitioner shewing that Col. Nathl. Bacon, auditor of Virginia, refused to reimburse him [by allowance in account] 427*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* paid by him to the soldiers taken into the King's pay (a good time after their being actually disbanded in obedience to the late King's orders from England) upon the extraordinary occasion of tobacco plant destroying in 1682 [same being so taken into pay] by the unanimous order of the Lieutenant Governor and whole Council of that Colony in petitioner's absence and without his privity till his arrival there some months after and then at their importunity continued by him, whereby the peace and quiet of the country then in apparent danger was established: further desiring allowance of 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* for keeping up the said soldiers with building a shed, raising the flag and other occasions, for 14 months and 14 days after petitioner's coming from thence "and being turned out of his government on his arrival in England when there was almost three years' salary, being 6,000*l.*, due to him remaining unpaid and near six months after the Lord Howard's arrival there": further that by particular direction of the Council in Virginia (upon pretence of the extraordinary hurricane and other emergent	Ibid, pp 314-6.

Bacon and same is by him [Bacon] answered to the King in his account for 1683, and yet neither Batchelour nor partners have had same delivered to them either in specie or by security, by reason whereof they are very clamorous and troublesome to petitioner: further that there are divers arrears of quit rents, escheats and profits received by several former sheriffs and officers and remaining in their hands but which belong to petitioner and reserved to him by his deed of assignment [of his rights in Virginia to the King] of 1684, May 24, as also several bills given for escheats for which patents are not granted in due form, as also several debts owing to petitioner from several persons, particularly 20*l.* from Adam Keeling, 15*l.* and 23 barrels of pork from Tho. Fenwick, 4,560lbs. of tobacco from Mr. Malchy Thruston, 20*l.* from Mr. Spratt and 20*l.* from Mr. Robinson, for all which he took security in the King's name whilst Governor of Virginia, but cannot now sue for same but by the King's direction: further that out of his great care for his government at his coming from there in June, 1683, he empowered Col. Nicho. Spencer, his Majesty's secretary there, to pay the soldiers (raised against the Indians by Act of Assembly) out of his own private estate if he [Spencer] and the Assembly should find it necessary, "who did accordingly pay them 98,000lbs. of tobacco and cask of petitioner, which though the Assembly called by the Lord Howard was so sensible of that they did in 1684 take care to repay yet he hath thereby not only lost the advantage of a great price and quick market by reason of the hurricane from above its present value and three years' time at the least, but finds himself at last extremely aggrieved by the late Act of Parliament imposing 3*d.* per lb. additional duty [on tobacco] from which he thinks he ought to be exempted, "as to this parcel of tobacco": lastly, that there are several arrears of fees and perquisites due to petitioner for clearing ships, [de]murage, ordinary licences, rent for Governor's land, tribute beaver and such like, which petitioner cannot sue for without the King's assistance: therefore prays justice in all these six particulars.

April 29.	Report by Treasurer Rochester to the King on the petition of Nicholas Yeates (Yates). Petitioner sets forth that he formerly represented to Charles II that his father Francis Yeates was equally instrumental with the Pendrells in his preservation at Boscobel and White Ladies and in several other instances particularly mentioned, but died within a few days after Col. Carlos had sent for him upon the Restoration to partake with them [the Pendrells] of the King's bounty and so he left petitioner, his son, unprovided for. Said petition was referred to the late Treasury Lords in Dec., 1684, but no proceedings were had thereon in consequence of the late King's death soon after. Petitioner now prays a pension. I have seen a certificate signed by Col. W. Carlos, Sir Richd. Astley and several of the Pendrells (viz. William, Hum[phry], George and Mary) stating that said Yates is the son of Francis Yates late of Longle Lawn and Margaret his wife, who were together with the Pendrells particularly instrumental in the King's escape as above and have never received any marks of favour since the Restoration. The truth hereof is also attested by Col. Charles Gifford. Besides several sums of royal bounty paid to the Pendrells, they had a grant in [June] 1675 (to Sir W. Wrotesley et al. in trust for them) of 100*l.* per an. for Mary Pendrell, etc. ut supra, Calendar of Treasury Books, Vol. IV, pp. 757-9. The Elizabeth Yates mentioned in this said grant of June, 1675, was the wife of Francis Yates, who was unhappily taken and hanged by the rebels for having been the late King's guide from Worcester to White Ladies and was no relation to petitioner, whose mother's name was Margaret. Petitioner deserves a pension.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 284-5.

* The effect of such surrenders and re-grants as above was to extinguish all claims for arrears accrued before 1684, Christmas, or in other cases up to the death of Charles II. 	Same to the Customs Commissioners. The King having already [Jan. 28 last, see b infra] given order concerning the aliens' duty on exportation, the merchants now apply concerning the [same] duty on importation. You are to report on (a) infra relating thereto. Appending: (a) the case of the Jews in relation to their paying of Customs. By the laws of England all foreigners are to pay greater Customs for all exported and imported commodities than the native subjects pay, which is agreeable to the laws of all other neighbour nations. But in the late King's reign many of the Jews and other merchant strangers obtained letters patent of denization with grants of favour to pay no more Customs than the nation's subjects, non-obstante the several statutes to the contrary. By the death of the late King all those grants of paying only natives' duties did determine and from thenceforth they ought to have paid aliens' duties to the present King, as may appear from the stated opinions of the Attorney and Solicitor General, Mr. Pollexfen and Mr. Courtenay. Upon the said opinions the Customs Commissioners ordered aliens' duties to be collected of and from all foreigners. These orders have been put in execution and obeyed by all others except the Jews, who have and do still continue to pay only native customs under colour of the before-mentioned grants made to them by the late King and do also make entries in their names of great quantities of merchandizes of others who have not obtained such licences: by which illegal and unjust proceedings the King has been defrauded of above 20,000*l.* since his accession; and the English merchants who pay aliens' duties in foreign parts have been very much discouraged and prejudiced in their trade, "the balance of commerce being thereby rendered so unequal that the Jews can undersell the English even in the native product of the country at least 10 per cent." (b) The previous order referred to above is as follows: 1685-6, Jan. 28. Order by Treasurer Rochester to the Customs Commissioners to observe an order of the King in Council dated Whitehall, 1685-6, Jan. 22, viz. as follows: Upon reading the petition of Sir Peter Vandeput, et al. on behalf of themselves and several other merchants of London, setting forth that by the act of Tonnage and Poundage aliens were to pay 2*s.* per £ on the export of native commodities or manufactures of this realm, being double as much as natives paid, "which said Act the	Ibid, p. 340. Out Letters (Customs) X, pp. 96–7.

II, c. 6] for taking off aliens' duties " upon native products and manufactures repeal so much thereof as concerned the custom or subsidy payable by aliens made denizens or other strangers on any of the native commodities of this kingdom exported over and above that paid by natives : and ever since the said Act merchants aliens and strangers and their factors have paid no more Customs for such commodities exported by them than natural born subjects, by which petitioners conceive that the trade of the woollen manufactures and other native commodities had been much encouraged and the revenue of the Crown not thereby lessened : further representing that of late, since the grant of the Customs to his present Majesty, the Customs officers require of all merchants strangers and aliens the double duty as in the Act of 12 Car. II, c. 4, which demand if continued would probably lessen the exportation of the native goods of the growth of this kingdom and most certainly remove part of the trade from the hands of the fair trading merchants, his Majesty's good subjects, who justly pay his Majesty's Customs not only for themselves but as factors into the hands of slight persons and unfair traders who make little scruple of defrauding his Majesty and colouring strangers' goods to the great prejudice of petitioners' trade : wherefore they pray that only the duties payable under the Act of 25 Car II, c. 6, be taken from merchants aliens and strangers or their factors : whereupon and upon hearing the Customs Commissioners thereupon the King declared his pleasure in favour of the petitioners and that for the encouragement of the exportation of the native commodities and manufactures of this kingdom and for preserving the trade in the hands of fair trading merchants, notwithstanding the revival of the Act of 12 Car. II, c. 4 [by the Act of 1 James II, c. 1), that his Majesty will take no other Custom of merchants strangers or aliens or other [sic for their] factors for such exported native products than were payable at the time of the death of Charles II by virtue of the Act of 25 Car. II, c. 6.

	Same to the Clerk of the Signet for a same for a grant to Sir Thomas Duppa as follows. The said Duppa has been employed as Receiver of the Tenths of the Clergy in the dioceses of Lincoln, Exeter and Sarum for several years and gave bond 1675, Dec. 6, in 2,000*l.* for his due accounting. Writs have issued in Hilary term last upon said bond and from inquisitions thereupon it was found that John Hinde, late of London, goldsmith, with John Toplady, gave bond 1684, Aug. 6, in 5,000*l.* to said Duppa conditioned to pay him 2,500*l.* and another bond 1685, April 9, in 1,000*l.* conditioned he pay him 500*l.* and they are indebted to him in 50*l.* more. The sheriffs of London seized said bonds into the King's hands and thereon extents have issued against Hinde and Toplady and from inquisitions taken thereon it is found that by patent of 1684, Sept. 26, the King granted Sir Samuel Morland pensions of 200*l. per an.* and 400*l.* and that same are in arrear from 1682 [sic], Christmas, 1,500*l.* for 2½ years, which arrear Morland did by deed dated 1682 [sic], June 24, assign to James Wellington, together with 300*l.* more which was then due and which is since received by said Hinde. By indenture dated 1682, Aug. 30, said Wellington assigned said arrear to said Hinde. Further, it was found that by patent dated 1680, May 28, the late King granted the Earl of Sunderland an annuity of 1,000*l.* out of the Tenths of several dioceses and by indenture dated 1680, July 7, said Earl assigned said annuity to said Duppa for one year ended 1684, Sept. 29, one moiety whereof was in trust for Thomas Kirwood, late of London, goldsmith, whose executor said Hinde is. Hereon there has been paid at the Exchequer to said Duppa in trust for Hinde [sic] 500*l.*, being one moiety of said 1,000*l.* Further, the said Morland gave bond 1682, June 24, in 3,600*l.* to said Hinde to pay the 1,800*l.* assigned as aforesaid or so much thereof as should not be received on said patent. The said sheriffs have seized into the King's hands said 1,500*l.* and 500*l.* and said Morland's 3,600*l.* bond. The moneys or arrears which so belonged to said Hinde and are so seized	King's Warrant Book X, pp. 425–7. Warrants Early XXXIII, ff. 33*a*-34*b*.

Hall and William Lowndes, "our agents employed in divers our affairs," that of said Hinde's and Toplady's debts to said Duppa 1,000*l.* is endorsed as paid upon their 2,500*l.* bond [? leaving due] "upon that bond 1,500*l.* and upon the other bond mentioned in the said inquisition 500*l.* and upon a note the abovesaid sum of 1,500*l.* in all 2,050*l.* [sic]": further, that said Morland only received 900*l.* for said assignment of 1,800*l.* to Wellington and if he repaid the 900*l.* with interest and 200*l.* more as gratuity the assignee was to be contented and therefore Morland desired that his case should be considered before any assignment be made by the King to Duppa. In order to enable Duppa to pay the Tenths which he owes to the King his Majesty hereby grants him the said 500*l.* which he received on the Earl of Sunderland's pension and which is seized into the King's hands as above; to hold same to him and his heirs without account for ever and also that he be paid 1,100*l.* out of the said Morland's arrear of 1,500*l.* owing on said Morland's pensions and similarly seized (the said 1,100*l.* being adjusted and agreed between said Morland and said Duppa as sufficing to satisfy the said debt owing by Morland to Wellington); the remaining 400*l.* thereof being hereby to be paid to said Morland to his own use without account: Duppa to have said 1,100*l.* to his own use and behoof without account. Further, when Duppa shall have received said 1,100*l.* then the said Morland, his heirs, lands and goods shall hereby be absolutely freed and discharged against the King and his successors from the said 3,600*l.* bond.

They therefore see no cause for granting a particular licence to a private person for so great a quantity of combed wool when the quantity allowed by law for the Governor to license (and he is the best judge of the people's necessity) is not yet near exported. (b) Report thereon by Richard Graham and Philip Burton. The allowance craved is excessive. We advise the allowance of 86*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* for poundage paid the respective sheriffs and 100*l.* for his extraordinary charges in sitting the inquisitions and attendances and other disbursements.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, p. 318.

	Same by same to Rich. Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of William Wynd (Wind) shewing that James Carrier of Ilminster, co. Somerset, did receive a letter without a name concerning the landing of the late Duke of Monmouth in the West some time before he did land there; that said Carrier was bound in 500*l.* with Tho. Carter and John Walden to answer at the next Assizes; that said Carrier was actually in the late rebellion and is fled and his recognisances are forfeit; that there was a neglect of the return of this forfeiture and that upon the encouragement which the King was pleased to give to petitioner, who begged the said forfeiture of the King, petitioner sent into the country and procured same to be returned and it is now filed in the Exchequer and the constat is herewith before the Lord Treasurer; therefore prays the Lord Treasurer to direct the proceedings of the said forfeitures to pass to the benefit of petitioner.	Ibid, p. 353.

	Report by William Blathwayte to Treasurer Rochester on the petition of Lord Colepeper as by the order of reference of April 24 last, ut supra, pp. 709–10. By a paper dated 1683, Sept. 20, said Lord declares he paid them to 1683, July 1, and that he left moneys and orders with Col. Bacon for their further payment to 1683-4, Jan. 1: and that on his return from Virginia said Lord demanded of the late Treasury Lords repayment of the sums thus disbursed; "to which their Lordships not agreeing and upon a settlement of all things between his Majesty and his Lordship a letter was despatched under his Majesty's signature directing Col. Bacon to pay unto the Lord Colepeper out of the revenue arising in Virginia 700*l.* sterling due to his Lordship for salary as Governor of Virginia until Midsummer, 1681, with directions nevertheless to deduct out of the said sum what should appear to have been paid in pursuance of his Lordship's order out of his salary or otherwise to the soldiers in Virginia since that time: whereupon Col. Bacon in his last account has charged to his Majesty the sum of 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* as paid to the soldiers and therefore to be deducted out of the said 700*l.* But it not appearing by any information that I have received from Virginia that his Lordship's orders aforementioned for payment of the soldiers did reach further than to the 1st of Jan., 1683-4, and in case there be further allowed the sum of 2*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* for building a shed at the Guard House, with the sum of 2*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.* paid by the present Governor's order at the raising the Flag and disbanding the soldiers" there will only remain 121*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* instead of 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* to be deducted out of said 700*l.* As to the second particular it appears by his Lordship's relation or paper aforesaid that such a sloop was hired by him on the 18th Jan., 1682-3, and discharged about Dec. 7 following. For the expense thereof he demanded of the late Treasury Lords 724*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* and was paid same, which answers the whole cost of said sloop. So that if any difficulty remains with his lordship concerning the 322*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.* paid by Col. Bacon for the expense of said sloop it is a matter of private account between his lordship and said Bacon wherein the King is not concerned, the whole expense of said sloop having been fully paid to his lordship according to his own demand, besides the consideration of his subsequent release to the King of all pretensions whatsoever during his government of Virginia. As to the matter of the deer skins it appears that a third of the forfeiture amounting to 36*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* has been already answered to the King and I see no reason on the part of the King why said skins should not be delivered to the buyers or that they may have leave to sue the security. As to the arrears of quit rents, escheats, profits and other debts owing to the King from several persons I advise that the King's order be signified in Virginia that the Governor's assistance be not wanting for recovery thereof. Fifthly: it appears by authentic papers from Virginia that 98,000*lb.* of tobacco and cask was advanced by said Lord's order in 1683 to the soldiers raised against the Indians, for the repayment

But as to the agrievance complained of as occasioned by the late imposition [on tobacco in England by the Act of 1 James II, c. 4] and whether the same tobacco does now bear the former price over and above the late tax or what proportion is a matter best referred to the Customs Commissioners. Lastly, as to the perquisites due to his Lordship it may help him in the recovery thereof if the present Governor be ordered to take care that said Lord receive all just satisfaction therein. Memorandum: the Lord Treasurer agreed with this report in every particular thereof.

	Treasurer Rochester to the Justices [of Peace] in Lancashire. I find from yours of May 7 last that you were well satisfied in all the points resolved by the Judges and communicated to you in mine of Feb. 24 last concerning Hearthmoney except the 3rd and 4th items [thereof] relating to ovens and cottages. I immediately directed the Hearthmoney Commissioners to consider same and their answer thereto is as follows: to the third point that my former letter to you is so plain that where innkeepers, victuallers etc. make any profit by their ovens they ought to pay the duty and where they make no profit by their ovens they ought not to pay the duty, which in truth is so plain that you can have no reason to doubt how to proceed. To the fourth: that the Attorney General is of opinion that if a landlord lets out a house or cottage in which are no more than two chimneys, at a rent or for any profit, to a poor man exempt by the Acts from payment the landlord is and will be liable to	Ibid, p. 393.

	the duty ; but if such house or cottage be let to such poor person without rent in nature of a parish house the landlord will not be liable, but the house will be of like nature as hospitals. As to Mr. Merriman, he was in no fault about the delivery of my former letter to you, which was carried about by Capt. Parker till it was in the condition you mention. But as I am satisfied that Merriman received several sums from several persons not warranted by law I have dismissed him and ordered ut supra, p. 816, as to recovering and refunding said moneys. Having taken this care to do you right I hope I need not repeat my desires to you to give all encouragement to the collection of this revenue concerning which I hope no scruples will now rest with you.

I enclose you a copy of my letter to the Earl of Bath ut infra to show you how positive the King's commands are and that they are suitable to the advices you gave me.
July 13.	Treasurer Rochester to the Earl of Bath [Lord Warden of the Stannaries]. On further consideration of the many abuses in the Stannaries of which you have given information, and of a letter to me from several gentlemen in these parts intimating the present good inclination of the country to reform those abuses the King directs the calling of a Convocation with all speed that the improvements which this season may produce before the winter comes on may not be lost. Take care that it consists of those persons that are of the best consideration in the country.	Out Letters (General) IX, p. 397.
	Same to the Bishop of Bristol, Jonathan Rashleigh, sheriff of Cornwall, Sir John Carew and Sir John Arundell. On receipt of yours of the 3rd inst. proposing a speedy Convocation I laid it before the King. I have received his orders as above. The King is well satisfied in the care you have taken herein and doubts not of the continuance of your care to improve this matter to his best advantage.	Ibid, p. 398.
	Henry Guy to Sir John Arundell, enclosing the last above letter. Please deliver it as soon as convenient.	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Graham and Mr. Burton to report on the following papers. Appending : (a) note only of (a) an account of the estate of Jno. Hucker of Taunton. (b) The forfeiture of William Thomson of London : "to be given to Capt. Windham."	Ibid.
	Same to Visct. Preston. I spoke to you some time since about your tenants in Longtown in Cumberland that keep alehouses and refuse to be surveyed by the Excise or to pay the duty they ought. The Excise officers have sent a list of the offenders by which it appears that the opposition to the payment of the duty is grown to a great height. I send you a copy. Use what influence you have to bring them to submission to the laws.	Ibid.
	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Richard Tye of Harwich, commander of the Francis ketch, on a reference from the King in Council dated June 19 ult. ; petitioner praying to be relieved from a forfeiture of said vessel for having two casks of prohibited bacon on board which petitioner received unknowingly from one Greenwood, merchant of Rotterdam.	Reference Book III, p. 358.

	Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Fran. Creswick and Tho. Stubbs, rangers of the Chase of Kingswood, co. Gloucester, shewing that they have had several contests at law with Sir John Newton et al. about the said Chase and were bound to appear at the Sessions for a pretended riot committed there by the said Newton; that they brought a certiorari to remove the matter from the Sessions, but said Newton and others being justices of the county refuse to allow the certiorari and caused their recognizances of 120*l.* to be estreated and levied "and get an order from your lordship to pay the money into the Exchequer": therefore pray repayment of the said money surreptitiously obtained.	Ibid, p. 359.
	Same by same to Charles Toll, Charles Twitty, William Lowndes, Tho. Townsend and Humphry Dove of the petition of Sir Tho. St. George, Sir Henry St. George and Henry Dethick for the arrears due to them for the offices formerly borne by them by other titles in the Heralds Office, same having been omitted from the account of the arrears of the late King's servants in which only their arrears were stated for the offices they then [at the time of Charles II's death] enjoyed.	Ibid.
	Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of James Kitson, one of the King's messengers in ordinary; praying payment of 149*l.* for bills signed by Secretaries of State and of above 100*l.* for other bills not yet signed, he being in great want of same to discharge debts contracted.	Ibid, p. 360.

I find by a copy of said letters patent that Charles II granted to the Bailiff and Jurats of the island power to levy as follows upon all wines, cyder and apples imported, viz. 24 livres Tournois per tun of French or Rhemish wines; 15 livres Tournois per butt or pipe of Canary or Spanish wines; 12 sols Tournois for every pottle of brandies; four livres Tournois for every tun of cyder and eight sols Tournois for every quarter of apples: and that the moneys therefrom should be applied as follows, viz. 2,000 livres Tournois per an. to the use of such school, college or academy as was intended to be built there by Sir George Carteret since deceased; 300 livres Tournois per an. for a stock to set at work the poor; the residue for the erection of a pier there and when same should be perfected then one moiety of said revenue to go to said school and the other moiety to such public uses as the Governor, Bailiff and Jurats should direct. I am certified by Sir Philip Carteret that the revenue raised as above was wholly employed to the building of said pier till the great quantities of cyder made in the island made it necessary to prohibit the importation of any foreign liquors but that in 1685 the pier running to ruin and the inhabitants considering the prejudice that would befall the whole island by the decay thereof, thought it a less inconvenience to take off the said prohibition and by consequence revive said impost and thereupon the impost was farmed for that year 1685 for 800 crowns French money, which sum remains still in the farmer's hands. It is now farmed for the like sum for the present year 1686, payable at Michaelmas next. I have no objection to petitioner's request seeing that the revenue is not sufficient for the several purposes at first intended.

July 20.	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester to William Hewer, Treasurer [for the late garrison of Tangier], to pay to the following persons (being housekeepers, merchants and victuallers belonging to the late city of Tangier) the sums detailed amounting in the whole to 5,224*l.* 13*s.* 11¾*d.* in full satisfaction of the debts due to them from the officers, workmen and soldiers employed on the works of the mole and fortifications there for necessaries supplied to them; as by an abstract thereof delivered to the late Treasury Lords by Sir Henry Shere, kt., Surveyor General of said works; all by reason that the great necessities of the said inhabitants call for a supply to them before the occasions of his Majesty's treasure will give way for paying the whole arrears due on account of said mole and fortifications. Fanshaw, an infant. We have consulted Mr. Eden, the Deputy Remembrancer of the Exchequer, as to the necessity or usefulness of the said parchment books which are sent to the Customs officers of the several ports by the King's Remembrancer. He informs us that the said books are of two sorts: the one is Coast Books taken for subsidy goods passing coastwise from port to port within the kingdom for which bonds are taken for their delivery accordingly and their not being exported without payment of Custom. As to the continuance and regular return of these there have been some late declaratory orders of the Treasury Lords and the Barons of the Exchequer. The other sorts are books for the entering of all warrants that pass for subsidy or custom inwards or outwards and these are yearly transcripts from the public books which are kept in each Custom House and are annually returned into the Remembrancer's Office upon oath and are there kept: but [they are] not made use of in any part of the [Customs Receiver General's yearly] account that is made to the King of the revenue of the Customs "nor is consistent with the method that now is and for some time hath been used in accompting for that revenue, which [present method consists in] returns [of] quarterly accounts from the outports and weekly from the port of London under several checques, examinations and attestations which those parchment books are not liable to nor capable of. But it is most probable that in former times when each Customer of a port or particular duty was an immediate and distinct accomptant to the King in his Exchequer those books were the only return and charge upon the accomptant and were accordingly delivered to the auditors to frame the accompts. But we conceive that now the chief use that can be made of or reason that can be given for the sending of those books into the Exchequer is that they may be there reposited as records for the use and inspection of the King or any subject if occasion require in future times and the rather because there is no public place or repository that we know of appointed for the other Custom books (which commonly follow the change and will of the respective officers); for the [general yearly] accompt being perfected with the King by the other returns to the auditors as aforesaid there is no great regard had to the perpetuating the books which were the originals of those accounts in each Custom House. And perhaps the books or accompts that are [under the present method] delivered to the auditors will not be of so easy or common access to any private person that shall desire it. And there is this further argument for the continuance of those books, that in case the King's Customs should happen to be in farm there is then no account of the proceed of the revenue returned to the auditors but only an account of the Farmers' discharge of their rent according to covenants; and in that case these books are the only fixed and recorded memorials of the revenue." We therefore advise their continuance as the only objection is their cost:

1686. July 28.	Warrant, dated Tunbridge Wells, by Treasurer Rochester to [John Fisher] the Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular and ratal of a tenement [in Mewsham, co. Cornwall, and parcel of the manor of Carnedon Prior], with a view to a lease thereof to John Budg. Prefixing: said Fisher's report dated July 2 inst. on said Budg's petition for same. The tenement was granted 1625-6, Mar. 11, to John Robert, petitioner's grandfather, for 99 years terminable on three lives, whereof John Oliver is the survivor. It is valued at 10*l. per an.* I advise a fine of 40*l.* for a fresh lease for two new lives at the old rent of 10*s.* and at the accustomed heriot, which by the Parliamentary survey is certified at 3*l.*	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, p. 331.
	Same by same to same for a particular and ratal of a tenement in Upton in the parish of Linkinhorne in the manor of Carnedon Prior with a view to a fresh lease thereof to Edwd. Kneebone. Prefixing: report ut supra. The tenement has been long in petitioner's family and is valued in the Parliamentary Survey at 27*l. per an.*, but Sir Richard Prideaux certified that this was purposely overrated by them because of the loyalty of petitioner and his father in the late rebellion. Prideaux valued it but at 15*l.* 10*s. per an.*, and it was so rated in the lease granted in 1662. In view of the death of his son, whose life also was shortened by his fidelity, I advise a lease for two fresh lives at a fine of 60*l.*, the old rent of 20*s.* 4*d. per an.* and the accustomed heriots, which in the Parliamentary Survey are certified at 20*s.* 4*d.*	Ibid, pp. 331–2.
	Same by same to same for a same of two small tenements in Austell Prior, co. Cornwall, with a view to a lease thereof to Andrew Came. Prefixing: report ut supra. The first tenement is held by petitioner under a lease to his grandfather, John Came, 2 Car. I, for the life of Elizabeth Vivian yet in being at the old rent of 10*s.* and for the life of Henry Trelawney on a second lease thereof to Henry Seymour, 1664, April 26, which [latter interest] is alleged to be long since assigned to petitioner's grandmother, Ann Came, deceased. I advise a fine of only 40*s.* for a fresh lease for petitioner's life. The second tenement was granted 4 Car. I to Joseph May and a like further interest was therein granted to said Seymour for the lives of two others of Mr. Trelawney's brothers, viz. Jonathan Trelawney, now Bishop of Bristol, and Charles Trelawney. I advise a fine of only 40*s.* for a like fresh lease to petitioner as the existing lives in being are young and healthy.	Ibid, pp. 332–3.
	Same by same to Timothy Whitfeild, Clerk of the Estreats in the Exchequer Court, to forbear process against Bryan Ayliff on his recognizance of 100*l.* before Sir William Turner, kt., for the appearance of Sir Robt. The premises were granted to William Wynn in 1662 for a term which will expire in 1693. Wynn assigned to potitioner in 1663. The increased rent of 4*l.* was then considered the moiety of the improved value. I advise terms as above.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, p. 335.
Aug. 1.	Royal warrant, dated Windsor Castle, to John, Earl of Bath, Warden of the Stannaries, to call a Convocation of Tinners ("at the old accustomed place in the town of Lostwithiel, being within our said Stannaries, at a certain day by you to be prefixed four and twenty of the most substantial, discreet and wise tinners of every Stannary Court of our Stannaries aforesaid") to ordain and amend etc. all such laws, customs, enormities and other things as are amiss and needul to be repressed within the said Stannaries and to ordain such good laws as shall be necessay for the quietness and good government of the tinners, the preservation of the said Stannaries and also for the commonwealth of this realm. The said Warden is hereby to straitly put in execution from time to time those good laws and orders which shall be taken by virtue hereof. The said great seal is to contain clauses to direct the judges to make such rules and orders as may be necessary for the due collecting or levying of the said fines [as in the former grant].	King's Warrant Book XI, pp. 94–5.

1686.	citizens of London, in trust for the Mayor, commonalty and citizens of said city under a certain yearly rent payable thereout to the Crown. Afterwards, in pursuance of the orders of Common Council the said Robert Marsh as surviving trustee of said remainder term assigned to John Bathurst, Edward Clagett, William Vincent and John Benbow; and similiter the said Humphry Clarke and Francis Mosso as the surviving trustees of the said reversion assigned to John Stone, Nathaniell Manton, Methusalah Turner and Thomas Benson, who were nevertheless to continue the trust for said Mayor etc. Since the judgment in the Quo warranto which was lately brought by Charles II against said Mayor etc. Charles II did by patent dated 1684, Dec. 24, grant to the then Mayor etc. of said city (amongst other things) all the lands which belonged to the Mayor, commonalty and citizens of said city at the time of the rendering the said judgment, to hold from Nov. 1 then last past for 99 years upon such trusts as are therein mentioned; which grant has been confirmed by the present King James II since his accession. Tobias Jenkins, esq. has petitioned his Majesty setting forth that in 1672 he employed his son-in-law, Robert Benson, deceased, to treat with the Committee of the Common Council in London appointed to sell the manors and lands belonging to the said city, for the purchase of the said lands called Scoreby, alias Scoreby Feilds, and an absolute grant thereof was agreed to be made on a supposition that the yearly value thereof was but 200*l.* per an. and warrants were signed directing John Bathurst and Edward Clagett, the surviving trustees, to convey said remainder term to Robert Benson aforesaid, and similarly warrant was signed to John Stone, Methusalah Turner and Thomas Benson, the surviving trustees of said reversion, to convey the inheritance of said fields to said Benson. The conveyance was prepared and the purchase money paid into the Chamber of London, but some differences arising as to the yearly value of the premises the conveyance was not executed and since then the Quo warranto has been entered against the city. But last term petitioner Jenkins has agreed the value with some of the Aldermen and now the Attorney General advises him that the way to obtain a good title is to procure a privy seal to direct as above herein.

	Same to same to advance (out of the imposition on tobacco and sugar) 21,000*l.* to the Treasurer of the Navy for three weeks' Navy money. The Lord Treasurer will take care to have this money supplied [to you] again. Likewise to pay (out of same) 8,680*l.* 0*s.* 7*d.* to the Treasurer of the Navy to complete the 16,000*l.* directed last week, supra, p. 864, to make good the sum which fell short on that branch. 	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester, dated Treasury Chambers, to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular and ratal of two tenements [in Bucklawren, parcel of the Duchy of Cornwall] with a view to a lease thereof to John Buller for 99 years terminable on two fresh lives in reversion of John Buller, his son, in the first tenement (late Welshman's), and one life in reversion of William Knight and Ann Buller in the other tenement. Prefixing: report dated July 28 last from said Deputy Surveyor on said John Buller's petition for same. The reversions of the said two tenements were granted to Henry Seymour in 1664, who put in the lives of his two nephews, Jonathan Trelawney, now Bishop of Bristol, and Charles Trelawney, his brother (both yet living and healthy young men), in reversion of William Welshman in the one tenement and of William Knight in the other and under rents of 4*l.* 7*s.* 4*d. per an.* for Welshman's tenement and 48*s.* 5½*d.* for Knight's tenement; but in Seymour's grant there was an increase rent of 25*l. per an.* on the first and 12*l. per an.* on the second. Not long after John Hearle contracted with said Seymour for his interest in said premises inter al., and in 1675 Hearle petitioned to buy off the increased rents and change Seymour's two lives. Said John Buller agreed with said Hearle concerning the ratal thereof, paid the fines and had a new lease of the premises inter al. in 1676, and put in two of his son's lives in Welshman's tenement and two of his daughter's lives in Knight's tenement. One of said sons (Francis) and one of said daughters are since dead. In respect he paid dear for buying in Seymour's interest, and that the tenements are much fallen in value of late years, I advise a fine of only 120*l.* on the first tenement, which now hardly yields 40*l. per an.* and of 25*l.* on the second tenement, being about a full year's value and at the old rents of 4*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.* and 48*s.* 5½*d. per an.*	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 335–6.

Aug. 20.	Henry Guy, dated Tunbridge Wells, to the Customs Commissioners. Treasurer Rochester will be in town the beginning of next week. You are to attend him the 25th inst. with what business you have to lay before him. Bring with you an account of the whole produce of the Customs in England for last June 24 quarter.	Out Letters (General) IX, p. 412.
Aug. 21.	Same, dated same, to the Auditor of the Receipt to forthwith advance to Sir William Trumbull the 800*l.* directed ut supra, p. 874. You shall have the necessary [money warrant and] orders for the [regular payment of] same as soon as they can be despatched.	Disposition Book V, p. 21.
Aug. 23.	Royal warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal for a grant to Thomas Fitch, gent. of the office of Weigher and Teller of the Mint, loco Lancelott Perrott, gent., deceased: to hold during pleasure and with power to appoint a deputy.	King's Warrant Book XI, p. 114.
	Royal letter, dated Windsor Castle, to the Governor of the Leeward Isles. For the better managing and collecting the Four and a Half per cent. duty in Nevis, St. Christopher, Antigua and Montserrat the Customs Commissioners have provided a sufficient number of beams, scales and weights to be sent over and erected in the most usual places of shipping and landing of goods, with instructions to the officers in said islands to cause all goods to be duly weighed in order to the receiving the duties thereon "and not to take the same by compute as hath been heretofore practised." You are to recommend this matter to the principal traders and planters within your government as a thing very much for the King's service, so as to obtain a ready compliance thereto by bringing their goods to the scales with as little trouble as possible. For their accommodation proper officers shall be appointed to said scales.	Ibid, p. 115.
	Royal warrant to Treasurer Rochester to give warrant to the Clerk of the Pipe for a lease under the Exchequer seal to Isaac Marriott, gent., of the houses, lands and tenements as follow, with all buildings thereon situate in Surrey, Kent, Bucks, Middlesex, Berks, Sussex, Oxford, Somerset, Norfolk and Beds., being rights and hereditaments "as we are informed" of right belonging to the Crown, but concealed and unjustly withheld therefrom: to hold to him, said Marriott, his executors and assigns for 61 years from Lady day last at the rent of a moiety of the improved rents and value thereof besides 5*l. per an.* out of every 100*l.* which shall be yearly made of the other moiety thereof: the said improved rents to be ascertained from time to time by the Surveyor General of Crown Lands. The patent is also to contain a grant to said Marriott of all arrears of rents and profits due to the Crown for the premises, whereof a moiety is to be paid to the King at the Exchequer whenever recovered. The said lease to be in consideration of the great	Ibid, pp. 115–24. Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 341–4.

1686.	costs and charges Marriott has been at in discovering and recovering said premises to the Crown and defending the King's title thereto. (Treasurer Rochester's warrant dated Aug. 25 hereon accordingly to the Clerk of the Pipe for said lease.) Together with : (a) report dated July 28 last from John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, to Treasurer Rochester, touching the discoveries made by Mr. Aylesbury and Mr. Marriott as by the reference of July 16 supra, p. 839. I have considered said discoveries and also the certificates and opinions of certain Commissioners who did June 25 last propose a grant to said Aylesbury and Marriott. I conceive all real discoveries ought to be encouraged for his Majesty's service, In Mr. Aylesburye's petition I see only two and those not found by inquisition, viz. one of a tenement called Weeke House in Hackney, valued by the Commissioners at 250*l. per an.* and alleged to be the estate in fee of Benedict Haynes, whose issue is said to be extinct by the death of Eliz. Waldo, the last of his line, in 1682. If this be true the discovery may be good and grantable. But it is the usual practice in such cases to have the title found by inquisition before any grant pass, as thereby any pretended claims and imcumbrances may be considered. The other item is three coppices in Lillingstone Dayrell, co. Bucks. This I take to be no discovery, but are well enough known to be within and part of Whittlewood Forest, and though it may be true that a lease thereof was granted by Queen Elizabeth, which is now expired, and that Urlin bought them in the former [late] rebellious times and cut down most of the timber, yet it is certain that the whole forest, including these three coppices, is together with Salcey Forest passed to the Queen Dowager as part of her dowry and rated to her at 200*l. per an.* and to be preserved for the growth of wood and not to be leased "and this I take to be the reason that the Lady Phil. Mohun did not obtain a grant thereof upon her petition for them in 1664." As to the parcels mentioned in the said Commissioners' certificate on behalf of Mr. Marriott, which extend into the abovesaid counties, but are not particularised nor found by inquisition a grant in general terms will not be according to the usual practice. Every particular is first to be ascertained so that it may be known what is granted. A certain time of five or seven years at the most ought to be limited for the lessee to recover [same to the Crown] at his own cost and what is not so recovered to be void : and no recovered item to be let at below the full yearly value and no fine or composition to be taken from any pretended owner to the prejudice of the Crown. All attornments to be forthwith certified by the lessee to the auditor of the county upon oath with the full yearly value so that same may be put in charge. The lessee not to assign any part of the premises but by special licence of the Lord Treasurer. As it is impossible to guess the yearly value of the premises, the usual covenant for delivering schedules and rentals is to be carefully observed. (b) Statement of opinion by Sir Robert Sawyer, Attorney General, dated Aug. 7 inst., on this report from the Deputy Surveyor General. I conceive the King may lease or grant

Hill then told him he must nevertheless pay for his cottages. Mr. Lawton desired to know what his demands were and if more were due he would pay it. Hill answered he could not tell for he had not received them, but he would go and view them and then give his demand. Mr. Lawton desired to know when he would return and he would expect him. Hill said in two hours. Mr. Lawton stayed within three hours, then went out and a short time after he was gone Hill came to enquire for him. A servant in the house told him he was gone out, but would not be long absent and desired Mr. Hill to come into the buttery, which he did, and the servant gave him drink in a silver bowl, which he drunk off and put the cup in his pocket, leaving word that he took it by way of distress for the duty. This was proved before the Justices, who condemned his taking distress before demand made and required him to restore the cup. The collector at first insisted on his instructions, which he kept very secretly, but at last restored it. The Justices then told him they conceived he ought not to distrain upon the landlord in any case for a cottage, but [save] where the tenant hath a legal certificate to discharge him for the present year "for where not [so done] every man is liable that is not under some other qualification and that the collectors are no judges of the sufficiencies of the tenants and therefore, no certificate appearing, he ought to distrain the occupant; but he having done contrary to this in this case was therefore committed, for though the occupant had no certificate and sufficient goods to distrain, yet he neglected that and distrained the landlord." One of the Justices, in order that the King's service might not suffer, offered to take his own recognisance, but this he peremptorily refused to give. It is also represented to the Lord Treasurer as a very hard thing "that landlords should pay for their cottages [for a back period] longer than since the resolution of the judges were known: for though by law a time is set not exceeding two years to collect, yet that seems to be only for such firehearths as were payable by the law as then understood. Besides the case (as it is alleged) is hard with a poor man that must pay two payments at first when he hath lived but half a year in the house." You are to report to Treasurer Rochester on the above complaint. Appending: copy of the commitment dated Leftwich, Aug. 27, by one of the Justices of Peace of co. Chester, of said Hill to the Constable of Chester Castle for taking a distress of two pewter dishes the goods of Jno. 1686. Sept. 6.	Royal warrant to the Clerk of the Signet for a privy seal to Treasurer Rochoster and to the Warden otc. of New Forest to direct that the cutting of browsewood of oak and beech in said forest shall be wholly suppressed, except some small quantities in extreme hard weather for the necessary relief of the deer, in which excepted cases the keepers shall not lop any young or thriving trees, nor sell or dispose of any wood, so cut, for their own use or benefit, but that aftor the deer shall have done with the same the wood that is left shall be sold for the King's use by such Commissioners as shall be appointed for the next sales in the said forest: and to dismiss any official of said forest offending against this order: all by reason that it appears by the returns of several commissions and from daily experience that the browsing and cutting of the great limbs and boughs from the oaks in the King's forests, where nurseries of wood and timber were designed, is utterly ruinous to the timber of the said trees and frustrates the expectation of good timber for the Navy; and that several orders have formerly been made to restrain immoderate browsing, but same were transgressed by the keepers who had then very small salaries and made profit out of the browsewood for their several maintenance; but that of late years the wages of the keepers have been considerably augmented so that no pretence to the profits of browsing remain on that account: and further the Surveyor of Woods having reported that the deer in New Forest need but little browse and that in hard weather only. Further it appears by the like report that there are in several parts of said forest great store of old decayed oak and beech which are past any use for the Navy and grow worse by standing and are often taken unduly by the country people, and that 1,500*l.* or 1,600*l.* per an. may be raised therefrom for the King's use. It is hereby ordered that such decayed trees be yearly felled in said forest not exceeding 2,000*l.* worth per an. to be sold for the King's use, and the salaries of the keepers to be paid thereout and the balance to be paid into the Exchequer or otherwise as the King shall appoint.	King's Warrant Book XI, pp. 127–9.

	Same by same to same of the petition of John Scott, merchant and owner of the ship Abercorne, shewing that said ship sailed from Londonderry to Port Royal in Carolina, arrived in May, 1685, and there laded timber for Barbados, but petitioners and all the passengers falling sick and 29 dying thereof, they put to sea for safety and the men falling weaker they bore up to Virginia to save their lives, and in Aug., 1685, arrived at Protoxon [Patuxent] River, in Maryland, where the master died and Mr. Scott used all his endeavours to get the seamen to sail, he fearing seizure by reason of some Irish manufactory aboard, but he could not induce them and so they were necessitated to stay; and were advised by some to unlade their goods privately without intention of sale, which was a design, for as soon as they took said advice Col. Dornell and Major Shewell seized the ship and goods, made themselves judges and without calling in a jury condemned the ship and goods, nor would they sell same to petitioner at their own appraisal: therefore prays satisfaction for such loss and cruel usage.	Ibid, pp. 380–1.

	Same to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal to authorise the taking in of loans on funds as follow and the establishment of a Register thereof. The Act of 1 James II, c. 5, authorised loans not exceeding 400,000*l.* on the credit of the Duty on French linens etc., at interest not exceeding 8 per cent.; on which Act and the letters patent of 1685, July 3 thereon, loans have been taken in and a public Register thereof duly kept, viz. to a total of 341,740*l.* principal (according to a certificate of Oct. 5 inst. from the Auditor of the Receipt) of which total 133,523*l.* has been already satisfied [and repaid] out of the receipts from said imposition, thus leaving unsatisfied upon the said Register 208,217*l.* Similarly under the Act of 1 James II, c. 4, for the duty on tobacco and sugars [which Act, however, does not specifically authorise loans] similar loans have been taken in to the amount of 175,419*l.* 5*s.* 3½*d.* on credit thereof. Further, the King has already made considerable payments to the servants of the late King Charles II for the arrears of their wages or allowances and designs to set apart for them more money out of the said duty on tobacco and sugar, "but so that the money which they have received or shall receive out of that imposition shall not in the whole exceed	Ibid, pp. 138–43.

For the encouragement of the lenders it is hereby therefore the King's pleasure that after the said imposition on tobacco and sugar shall have produced into the Receipt of the Exchequer 260,000*l.* (reckoning the moneys already paid in as well as those to come in) then all the receipts thereof thenceforth shall concurrently with the receipts of the said Duty on linens etc. be [a fund of credit or] applied and appropriated to the satisfaction not only of loans already made, but also of loans hereafter to be made thereon in pursuance hereof, " together with such other sums as we may hereafter direct to be satisfied out of the said impositions or either of them in course as the orders for the said loans or the said other sums shall stand in the Register for the same hereby directed to be kept and with such interest as is hereinafter mentioned." It is therefore hereby ordered that all the moneys arising in future by the said imposition on tobacco and sugars (except or after deduction of the cash necessary to meet drawback debentures or ready cash discounts) shall be paid into the Receipt and there kept distinct and apart from the cash and accounts of other the King's revenue; and that no tallies of assignment, tallies of anticipation, warrants or other matters or things whatsoever shall at any time hereafter be levied to hinder the actual payment of the said moneys into the Exchequer as above. And the Auditor of the Receipt is hereby to keep a fair and perfect book or Register in his Office wherein shall be truly expressed the moneys already paid in on loan on said imposition on tobacco and sugars and likewise all loans which shall be made thereon hereafter, to which book the lenders or their assigns shall have free access at all convenient hours, free of charge. Loans are therefore hereby authorised to be taken in (from natives or foreigners) on the said Linen Duties Act, and also upon the abovesaid tobacco and sugar Duties Act; and tallies of loan are to be struck thereupon and delivered to the lenders, upon production of which the usual orders of repayment are to be drawn by the Lord Treasurer and likewise for payment of interest not exceeding 7 per cent. per an., such interest to be payable [or to be made into principal] quarterly " in all which orders or else in the margins of the same or by endorsements thereupon it shall also be expressed that the same are satisfiable or payable out of the money of both the said impositions or either of them." And the Auditor of the Receipt is to register all such orders of repayment " and also all orders for any other payments to be made by our direction " in [their due, strict chronological] course, according to their respective dates and not otherwise, which shall be done either by a continuation of the said present Register of loans on the Linen Duty Act or else in a new book to be prepared for this purpose. To the said book all persons shall have free access as above. And the King here appoints that all the receipts of the said Linen Duty Act and similarly of the Tobacco and Sugar Duty Act (in the latter case

No preference in payment is to be given to one person over another contrary to the course of the said Register or Registers on pain of the officer, so doing, forfeiting his office. Orders bearing the same date shall not be understood to have preference one of another: and if the parties interested do not come in for the same then (on condition that money be reserved for their payment) the next subsequent orders may be paid; in which case interest is to cease from that moment on such orders as are not so called for. And for a further encouragement to the lenders no fees or rewards are to be taken from them in respect of the loans made in pursuance hereof.

	Royal warrant to the Attorney General to acknowledge satisfaction on record of two fines of 8*l.* and 40*s.* set upon Richard Cooper, junr., late of the parish of St. Pancras, victualler, Aug. 30 last at the General Sessions of the Peace held for the county of Middlesex at Hicks Hall, in St. John Street, upon indictments for assaulting and bruising Mary, wife of Edward Martin and for assaulting Sarah Aveling, spinster, with commitment to Clerkenwell till he should pay same: it being represented to the King that he is very poor and cannot pay said fines.	King's Warrant Book XI, p. 145.
	Same to the Clerk of the Signet for a privy seal to be directed to the Treasury, the Master General of the Ordnance and the Customs Commissioners as follows concerning the importation of arms. By the Act of 1 James II, c. 8, the importation of gunpowder, arms, ammunition and utensils of war without licence is forbidden on pain of forfeiture; and that persons obtaining licences for such import by way of merchandise to make profit thereof other than for the immediate furnishing of the King's stores should incur penalties as therein. It has been represented by the Master General of the Ordnance that several quantities of swords have lately been imported and seized at the Custom House, but have by the Customs officers been permitted to public sale and not brought into the King's stores as they ought to have been. It is the opinion of the Customs Commissioners and the Attorney General thereon that before the said goods so seized can be transferred to the King's stores there ought to be a judgment in law for the condemnation thereof and that further encouragement than as in the Act ought to be provided for the officers seizing, that is over and above the moiety of the treble value given by the said Act. It is therefore hereby ordered that the Customs officers be vigilant and careful in looking after and seizing all such arms etc., and that same be proceeded against in the Exchequer in the name of the Attorney General and that on condemnation same be transferred to the stores in the Tower. The Customs officers are to give notice of any seizure to the Master General of the Ordnance. And the said Master General is to order payment to any such seizer of whatever reward he thinks fit for his further encouragement, not	Ibid, pp. 146–8.

	Same to Mr. Sugar. Yours to hand concerning the pretences of the Dean and Chapter of York to the rents of certain lands belonging to the Archbishopric of York, during the vacancy of the See. Treasurer Rochester thereon directs you to proceed in the collection of all the rents as formerly, notwithstanding their said pretence: and you are not to part with any of the money so collected without Treasurer Rochester's order. You are to deliver to the Dean and Chapter the enclosed letter from his Lordship. Appending: said letter dated Oct. 26 from Treasurer Rochester to the Dean and Chapter of York. I learn from Mr. Nicho. Sugar as above that you pretend to the rents of several manors belonging to the Archbishopric of York sede vacante, and that you have ordered him not to receive any more of said rents and to pay to your use what he has received thereof. I will by no means allow of an order of that nature from you to the King's Receiver who is properly under my direction; and I think it would have become you very well if you had any pretensions on your own behalf to have acquainted me therewith. I have therefore repeated my former direction to him to proceed in the receipt. When you make out what is your right in the matter I will have it examined and no wrong shall be done you.	Ibid, p. 449.
	Additional instructions by Treasurer Rochester to the Customs Commissioners concerning the accounts of the outports collectors and their remitting the King's money [up to London]. (1) As the collections are everywhere increased by the new impositions lately granted the collectors' securities are to be proportionately increased. (2) They are peremptorily to give to the Comptroller General of the Accounts of the Customs a quarterly account of their receipts, viz., at or within 14 days of the quarter day, as they are obliged to do by their bond. (3) At every quarter day or within 30 days thereof they are to fully pay in [their moneys and] discharge and clear their accounts; instead of at Michaelmas only for the preceding year as hitherto done under the conditions of their bond. (4) The Customs Commissioners are themselves to see that the collectors' bonds be perfected and not leave that duty to the [Customs] Secretary. (5) Said Commissionors are not to rely wholly on the examiner for the sufficiency of the said securities, but are to satisfy themselves therein of their own knowledge so that any fault may be laid on them, not on the examiner. (6) When any collector is to deliver up his cash books, debentures etc. to a succeeding collector it is to be done by indenture between them, to be attested by the other principal officers of the particular port. (7) When any collector dies or goes out his bond is not to be presently given up, though his account may seem to be even; but the bond is to remain for some time to answer any faults or surcharges that may afterwards appear. (8) The monthly abstracts of the collectors are to be returned to the Comptroller General of Customs Accounts as	Out Letters (Customs) X, p. 168.

Oct. 25.	Report from the Customs Commissioners [to Treasurer Rochester] on the papers as follows referred to them Sept. 4 last supra, p. 897, being (1) the copy of the decree of the Court of Admiralty in New England against Joshua West, master of the ship Swallow and against the said ship etc.; (2) the plea of the said West to the information against him. We find that by the Act of Trade of 15 Car. II, c. 7, it is provided that no commodities of the growth of Europe shall be imported into any his Majesty's Plantations unless bona fide laden in England, Wales or Berwick on forfeiture of a third to the King, a third to the Governor of the particular Plantation and a third to the informer. "Now it is to be noted that the Canary Islands have in construction and practice been constantly understood [to be] in Europe, although sometimes laid down in the maps of Africa: that the Madeira Islands are as geographically within Africa as the Canaries. And yet it seems the laws intended or supposed them to be within Europe by the exception that is made of them in the same Act; which would have been impertinent if they had been understood to have been within Asia, Africa or America. Also it is to be noted that the trade to the Canaries is driven on in the same manner and with the same freedom as to any part of Spain, and in a great measure by the product of goods immediately carried and vended in Spain; which produceth a credit for the wines of the Canaries, which are always understood to be a commodity of Europe; for no man ever heard of the name of African wines. And it is to be noted also that the King of Spain suffers the same liberty of trade here [in the Canaries] as he doth to Spain and all his islands within Europe, and denies any commerce of foreigners into any of his territories out of Europe: which is an argument that both he as well as we understand it [the Canaries] to be an immediate dependant on Spain as [being] within the European [Spanish] government." It is also to be noted that the Navigation Act of 12 Car. II, c. 18, contains the like exception of theso islands, which shews that they were not to be accounted in that sense as any part of Africa, though laid down in the usual maps or charts of that part of the world. And suitable to the said exception there are further provisoes in the same Act for goods and places within the Mediterranean and Levant Seas agreeable to ancient usages, without which, if literally construed as to the description of maps or charts [said Act] would have produced a great alteration and confusion in the trade of these places. As to the present case of Josua West, as represented to the King from the Judicature of New England, no man can be a proper judge of it here, because the matter of fact is neither proved nor disproved, for the defendant's plea is of a mixed nature, "alleging that besides his ignorance of a transgression he was in alto mari not voluntary, nor actually imported, and that there was force and violence used upon him to cause the importation: which if that be made appear to his Majesty or that the defendant shall submissively disclaim and retract	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 201-4.

1686.	that part of his plea which seems to justify the lawfulness of earrying the goods of the Canaries to tho Plantations without first bringing them to England, and insist only upon his ignorance in tho transgression of the law, submitting himself to his Majesty's merey, we humbly conceive" his bond may be discharged from further prosecution. Followed by : undated report by Sir Robert Sawyer, Attorney General, on the said West's ease. and on the above report. I gave the Customs Commissioners my opinion on this ease about a week since, when they sent to me for it. The principal question depends upon matter of fact, whether the Canary Islands (and Teneriffe as one of them) are laid down in the charts and maps of the world [as belonging] to Africa or Europe ; for those charts and maps are by the laws relating to the Customs and Navigation made the standard or rule to determine in what quarter of the world any place lies and I know of no other rule to judge by. Now if by the charts and maps they [the Canarics] are laid to Africa the law will be with the defendant : if to Europe then the importing of the wines from the Canaries to New England will cause a forfeiture of ship and goods. It seems upon view of the maps, as the Customs Commissioners observe abovc, that the Canary Islands are laid down in the maps of Africa but they observe that the Canary Islands in construction and practice havc been constantly understood in Europe. What they mean by "construction" I know not. The meaning of the law must be taken by a legal construction, and I know of none such to adjudge the Canaries in Europe. Neither do I believe that by any entries in the Custom House (which must be the practice they mean) it will appear that the Canaries are in Europe. And the licence given by the same Aet to carry wines from the Madeiras to the Plantations is so far from being an agreement for the Canaries being in Europe that it seems to argue the eontrary [viz.] that those islands were the utmost southern bounds of Europe : for these [Madeira] islands lying [over] against the mouth of the [Gibraltar] Straits it might be doubted whether they lay in Europe or Africa ; whereas the same doubt could not be of the Canaries, which lie morc southward near the eoast of Africa. And the clause out of the Navigation Aet whieh the Customs Commissioners insist upon as an exeeption of the Canaries is, with submission, mistaken by them for it is no exeeption out of the prohibitary clauses against importing goods of Asia, Africa or America, save in English shipping, but it is a provision or saving out of another clause in the Aet, that the commodities shall be immediately brought from the port or place of growth ; by which saving the commodities of the Canaries may be brought from any port. But in the other part of the ease I concur with the Customs Commissioners that if the ship were seized upon the high seas and earried into port there would be no forfeiture even were the law against the defendant on the other point. For to [be foreed to] import will not make an importation. Followed by : a further undated statement of opinion by said Sawyer. "There is nothing in the Act of 12 Car. II against such importation. It is 15 Car. II, c. 7, that relates to this matter : and I am of opinion that the exporting of commodities from the Canaries which are out of Europe, to New England is no offence within that or any other Act that I know of. And the seizure being in New England the trial must be there unless the ship were removed hither, and then it might be in the Exchequer."

Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Thomas Baker, shewing that he and his counsel informed the late King of several parcels of Crown land now of great value, heretofore granted to persons in trust for Sir Allen Apsley [et al.], then Victuallers of the Navy, for satisfying 20,000*l.* then due to divers persons for provisions of victuals furnished by them, on credit, for his Majesty's service but unpaid to this day; and that said lands were by reason of some defect in the grant, and other reasons, recoverable to the Crown: whereupon the late King passed his royal word for payment of said 20,000*l.* with interest and damages out of the effects of said lands and in order thereto granted a commission to Sir Edward Thurland et al. to state said debt and to agree and compound the same in the King's name: but the effecting thereof being hindered, petitioner has, since the accession	Ibid, p. 401.

Oct. 28.	Rules and orders by Treasurer Rochester to be observed in the Receipt of the Exchequer. "Whereas the current of moneys into the Receipt of his Majesty's Exchequer as well from the constant branches of his revenue as from new Aids and Impositions granted in Parliament and also by loans and otherwise is of late very much increased and the same, through God's blessing, is likely to continue in as great or greater proportion for the future," the Lord Treasurer therefore thinks that the securities which the Tellers give to the King holds a small proportion to their total receipts, and cannot possibly be equal to the full value thereof, "and yet that the moneys in the said offices according to the present practice are chiefly if not altogether entrusted with the clerks belonging to the said Tellers": therefore thinking it necessary that the King's money in the Receipt be kept with greater safety than at present, "and having had some retrospection and regard to the ancient practice and law of the Exchequer in reference to the keeping of the money," therefore the Lord Treasurer ordains the following rules by the advice of the Attorney General. (1) That all the King's money in the Receipt shall be kept in chests ("which I have appointed to be made sufficient for this purpose and to be well fastened with screws") under three different locks with keys to each, and that the Tellers or their clerks respectively shall keep but one of the keys to each of the said chests. (2) That another of the said keys shall be kept by the Clerk of the Pells. (3) That the third key of each chest shall be kept by the eldest of the two Deputy Chamberlains who are employed in the striking of tallies. (4) That no orders or debentures shall be paid the same day in which they are sent up from the Auditor's [of the Receipt's] office to the Clerk of the Pells except orders for the Navy, Ordnance, Forces or for moneys registered upon some of the public registers, to the end the Clerk of the Pells, or his senior clerk in his absence, the Tellers or their clerks and the Deputy Chamberlains may know at the opening of the chest or chests at 9 o'clock in the morning what money to take out for the service of that day: and that the said Clerk of the Pells and Deputy Chamberlains every morning (Sundays and holidays excepted) at their first coming to the Exchequer (which shall be always by 9 of the clock at the furthest) shall go up to the Tellers or their clerks, who shall by that time attend in their respective offices, and having first taken note of what debentures or orders are directed for payment and lie ready to be satisfied, shall forthwith cause the respective chest or chests to be	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 367–9.

And that every day before they go home (the time for which is hereby appointed to be between 12 and 1 o'clock daily) they shall return to the samo offices and see all the money which was received that day (except what shall have been paid away on debentures or orders recorded with the Clerk of the Pells) to be first weighed in the bags that so it may be seen or guessed very near whether the Teller or his clerks puts in and takes out his money truly; and a ticket expressing the content [is] to be put into each bag and so to be secured in the said chests under the three locks aforesaid. (5) In case money locked up in thc said chests be of a sudden directed to be issued for the Navy, Ordnance, Forces or upon any of the said public registers so that the payment must not be deferred till the chests shall be opened next morning, "let the said Clerk of the Pells and Deputy Chamberlains upon these extra-ordinary occasions go up forthwith to the Teller's Office and see the chests opened for that money and his Majesty's servicc despatched without delay, and the chests to be secured again in manner as aforesaid." (6) When the said Clerk of the Pells by reason of sickness cannot attend or shall have my leave of absence, I do appoint that his eldest clerk (which the said Clerk of the Pells shall always ascertain) shall keep his keys of the said chests: and similarly the Deputy Chamberlain's keys shall be in like cases kept by the other Deputy Chamberlain: and that no moncy shall be taken out of the said chests but in the presence and view of the respective Teller or his clerk, and of the Clerk of the Pells (or his clerk in cases as above) and of the eldest Deputy Chamberlain (or the other Deputy Chamberlain in cases as above). (7) That the Auditor of the Reccipt do upon the determination of every week's certificate made by him of the receipts, payments and remains in the Exchequer, or the next ensuing morning, call the said officers together and visit every Teller's cash and by numbering the bags, opening them or some of them promiscuously and (if he thinks it necessary) by weighing or telling the money or any part thereof, do see that the respective Tellers have in real money the remains wherewith he charges them [in his said weekly certificate]: and that he do as frequently as he thinks fit, at least once in every three months, carefully examine the Teller's vouchers for the payments which he allows them in his weekly certificates.

I am informed that one Thomas Cann of Cansgill and some others that are called Quakers near you are in some trouble, if not in danger of being ruined, upon account of their meetings; and that you were disposed to show them favour if you thought it agreeable to the King's pleasure, "which, I will presume to let you know, is not to have those poor people so troubled upon the account of their being Quakers only." If therefore, you find no other complaints against them you will be pleased to shew them what kindness you can.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 16

	Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the following paper. Prefixing: a paper of reasons why his Majesty should be at the charge of a retorna brevium for the Tower Liberty. The great benefit and revenue that will accrue to his Majesty by granting a retorna brevium to the Tower Liberty. Whereas there are several concealed lands in and about the Tower of London, there has very lately been a commission of enquiry and between 400*l.* and 500*l. per an.* in lands and houses very plainly proved to be the King's and to be concealed lands: which commission and return is now filed on record. Since this the Attorney General has exhibited an information of intrusion in the Exchequer Court and will have judgment thereon this term, and then his Majesty will be in actual possession of the premises and receive the rents and profits thereof for ever. This commission wants to be renewed for there are several other concealed lands and houses in and about the Tower Liberty to the value of 1,000*l. per an.* at least. The late commission was by depositions without a jury, the usual way. The reason for this was that the Tower officers without a retorna brevium are not authorised to retorn a jury, nor was it safe or proper to trust the sheriff of Middlesex in it; all Liberties being against his interest. So that until a retorna brevium be passed the King cannot have possession of what he hath [recovered] or shall hereafter recover. The revenue that the retorna brevium will annually bring to the King will be all the fines set and recognizances forfeited and may at the lowest estimate be guessed at above 200*l. per annum.* Lastly, for want of settling the Liberty and boundaries there have arisen several quarrels, riots etc. and several suits at law and indictments	Ibid, pp. 403-4.

The retorna brevium will settle all things beyond any scruple or dispute and save all future charge upon such differences. "And whereas all the inhabitants [of said Liberty] are bound immediately on summons to come into the Tower and there take arms to defend the garrison for his Majesty, and whereas at present there are not above 30 or 40 bound so to do, when the retorna brevium is passed and all the places belonging to it incorporated together by retorna brevium his Majesty upon any emergent or sudden occasion will have 1,000 men at least at an hour's warning, without beat of drum, come into the Tower to the assistance and maintaining the place."

Fryer has attended us upon this occasion on behalf of himself and Breton, and has declined the justification of the legality of such importation, declaring that he will not venture any more upon that trade for the future, and therefore has desired us to intercede with you that the bond given in New England for abiding by his Majesty's decree in the present case may be released. In consideration hereof we consider him a fit object of the King's grace and favour, and therefore advise that said bond may be given up. Appending: Reference dated Oct. 28 by Treasurer Rochester to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Robert Bretton and Tho. Fryer; petitioners shewing that their factors in Teneriffe, one of the Canary Islands lying in Africa, in April last laded 32 pipes of Canary wine in the ship Swallow, English built, Joshua West master, and consigned them to John Usher at Boston in New England, but on arrival there in June last said ship was seized by Capt. John George under pretence that it came there with wines from Europe and contrary to the Navigation Act was not laden in England: on which seizure a trial was had in the Admiralty Court at Boston, but the Court did demur giving any judgment therein, conceiving that the Canary Islands were in Africa and a decree was made for delivery of the ship and lading to petitioner's factor, on bond being first given in 255*l.* money of New England to abide such judgment as should be given in England therein: therefore petitioners pray his Majesty's gracious resolution in the premises, the said factor having done nothing contrary to the Navigation Act, as petitioners conceive, "and as by the opinion of the Attorney General hereunto annexed [missing, see supra, pp. 957–8] doth appear, and the trade directly from the Canaries to New England."

There was this day read at the Board the petition of Robert Scott, bookseller, now beyond the seas, setting forth that by Act of Parliament [14 Car. The petitioners have produced to me eopies of privy seals for payment of several of the like fees formerly. On reference from me the Auditor of the Receipt finds the several fees of ancient eustom together with the fee of 5*l.* for largess upon the creation of every nobleman are all of them contained in the said privy seals enrolled in his offiee except only the 100*l.* for the Coronation of your royal Consort, for which latter he finds no precedent before him: further he finds that the 627*l.* direeted to be paid by the privy seal of Charles I in the second year of his reign was paid at the Exehequer 22 June, 1627, and that the 487*l.* direeted to be paid by Charles II in the 13th year of his reign was paid at the Exehequer 10 Dec., 1664. 	Same to Mr. Graham and Mr. Burton to report on the enclosed memorial touching the estate of Sir Robert Peyton. Appending: said [anonymous] proposal. Sir Robt. Peyton has applied to the King for pardon, which the King promised on condition that he would submit himself and make a discovery of such transactions as he knew to have been acted or designed against his Majesty and the kingdom; which submission and discovery was agreed to by the agents of the said Peyton. But it now appears that those offers were only set on foot that the said Sir Robert might gain time to dispose of his estate into foreign parts according to a pretended settlement by him made to that purpose, by which he thinks to have secured his fortune; and therefore now refuses to comply with what he formerly proposed, believing he has secured his estate from being liable to any forfeiture to the King, though he now stands actually outlawed for high treason. It is offered, in order to prevent said Peyton defrauding the King and to hinder said Peyton from support or subsistence in carrying on his treasonable practices, that the said estate shall be clearly discovered to the King upon allowing 300*l. per an.* to the discoverer, on condition that the discoverer make out the estate to be worth 600*l. per an.*, but if same come not to 600*l. per an.* then the discoverer to have a moiety. "This is only desired to be granted until such time as the said Sir Robert Peyton shall obtain his pardon from his Majesty." 	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester to the Excise Commissioners to repay to Arthur Shallett 433*l.* 4*s.* 0*d.* deposited by him for the duty of 89 pieces of overproof brandy: it appearing from said Commissioners' report of Oct. 26 last on the case of said Shallett et al. merchants trading to Barcelona, that in 1684 said Shallett had in his factor's hands at Barcelona 1,000*l.* sterling and that in that and the following year he sent commodities of the growth and manufacture of England [to Spain] to a considerable value among which were stills and other materials for making brandy: that about 23 Mar., 1684-5, he gave orders for making 100 tuns of brandy of the [then] following vintage; that the Spaniards through ignorance or negligence made the brandy very uneven, some under proof, some above proof: that the first returns thereof came in the Friendship, George Flemming master, and thereof 80 pieces were underproof, for which Shallet paid duty as full proof: that the next returns were the brandies now in question, which came in the ship Southampton, William Tyler master, some being under proof, and 89 pieces a third above proof, and notwithstanding petitioner's orders to his correspondent (given immediately after the imposition of the Act for double duty on overproof brandy) not to send any overproof brandy as is affirmed by the oath of his servant, Benj. Hodgskin: that petitioner has paid the duty on the underproof brandy and deposited 1,343*l.* 13*s.* 0½*d.* for the duty of the said overproof pieces, which is 434*l.* 4*s.* 0*d.* more than if same had been just proof: wherefore said Commissioners think that petitioner's case is equitable to be relieved, in like manner as Mr. Beake and other merchants were who imported overproof brandy immediately after the making of said Act.	Out Letters (Customs) X, pp. 176-7.
	Reference by same to William Blathwayt [as Auditor of the Plantations] of the petition of Sir Robert Robinson, shewing that on a former petition he prayed to be allowed for the transportation of himself and goods to Bermudas [the same allowance] as Sir Richard Dutton had, but is now informed [that it] was only 100*l.*, " but then Sir Richard himself and family being carried in a man-of-war paid nothing for the passage of himself and servants, for which the petitioner must pay 5*l.* per head in a merchantman, " which comes to 100*l.* more " : therefore prays an allowance for this.	Reference Book III, p. 402.

	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of John Benifice of Dunwich, co. Suffolk, shewing that in 1672 Sir William Doyly, one of the Commissioners appointed to take care of the Sick and Wounded in the late Dutch War, appointed him deputy to take care of such sick and wounded at Dunwich and adjacent places; which petitioner faithfully executed during that war and expended such moneys as from time to time he received from said Doyly: that in 1676 petitioner's accounts were perused and audited by Richard Gibson, who was authorised by the Earl of Danby, then Lord Treasurer; and vouchers were produced to prove the same, and said Gibson was well satisfied therewith and petitioner was paid 173[l.] towards the balance thereof: that said Gibson together with Mr. Thomas Cooper, has lately made a report in general to the Lord Treasurer concerning said account [to the effect] that petitioner is indebted 317*l.* 16*s.* 4*d.* to the King without ascertaining the particulars thereof; upon which a bill is exhibited in the Exchequer against petitioner to account over again, which petitioner is utterly unable to do, having lost some of his vouchers, and his account and other vouchers being detained by the said Gibson, and the persons are since dead who should justify the said account: therefore prays a hearing and stay of the Exchequer proceedings meantime.	Reference Book III, p. 410.
	Same by same to the Attorney General of the petition of Sir Benj. Tichborne, kt., shewing that his grandfather, Sir Walter Tichborne, did in 17 Car. I sell several lands in the parish of Ash, co. Surrey, to the Crown, amongst which lands there is a parcel containing about 100 acres of meadow and pasture commonly called Noose, Loose and Whitmores, which came by petitioner's grandmother and which petitioner's grandfather had no power to sell, the same being by law vested in petitioner: therefore prays some satisfaction for same from the Crown.	Ibid, p. 412.
	Same by same to same of the petition of Lady Eliz. Gerrard to the King; petitioner shewing that her father the Earl of Macclesfield, being seized of an estate in lands by the device of Sir Edward Fitton (part of which the said Sir Edward mortgaged for raising a Regiment for the service of the Crown) after his death one Mr. Jolliff and Alex[ande]r Fitton by mesne assignments became interested in the said mortgage, and receiving the rents for several years petitioner's father brought a bill in Chancery for an account and redemption and thereupon it was decreed that said Jolliff and Fitton should come to an account and assign their interest to said Earl upon payment of what should appear to be due to them; an account was accordingly near ready to be stated, whereupon the Master [in Chancery] to	Ibid, p. 417.

Nov. 22.	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester to the King's Remembrancer to deliver up to Sir Thomas Jones et al. executors of Sir Thomas Vernon, deceased, late a Teller of the Exchequer, the bonds of them and others the sureties as by a schedule annexed [missing], whereby they became sureties to Charles II for said Vernon's true accompting: they having represented that immediately after said Vernon's death they paid to one of the other Tellers all such moneys as were remaining due to the King on his account, as by a constat or certificate thereof from William Wardour, Clerk of the Pells, and by report of the Auditor of the Receipt and of Thomas Hall, First Secondary [in the King's Remembrancer's Office].	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 384-5.
	Report by same to the King on the annexed paper (a) infra containing the demands of the Duke of Albemarle concerning Mote Park. I find that in 1660 said Park was granted by Charles II to the then Duke of Albemarle at the value of 264*l. per an.* as it was then rated by Sir Charles Harbord. After the said Duke's death Charles II made an agreement with the present Duke (then a minor) for repurchasing said Park to be laid into Windsor Great Park. The purchase money agreed on was 7,000*l.* and the King was to pay 300*l.* a year rent till the purchase money should be settled and a final conveyance made, which could not be till the Duke came of age. The said rent has been paid up to 1684, Michaelmas, but the privy seal for payment of such rent out of the Customs was terminated by the death of Charles II and has not been renewed. There are therefore two years' arrears of rent. (2) Although the 7,000*l.* purchase money represents 26½ years' purchase, he ought to receive said sum on a perfect conveyance because Charles II agreed to it, and the Duke's counsel affirm that it is worth more than 264*l. per an.* (3) I see no reason for the demand of 1,620*l.* for over interest (for 13½ years to Sept. 29 last at 120*l. per an.*) as the agreement was not to pay interest but rent, which rent was 36*l. per an.* more than the rated value. (4) As to the Duke's claim of 580*l.* 9*s.* 4½*d.* for his payment of a [fee farm] rent of 38*l.* 13*s.* 11½*d. per an.* to the Queen Dowager out of said Duke's lands in Essex and which the Duke claims ought to be repaid and settled on a fund to him; I find that in 1674 the Duke petitioned Charles II representing that by patent of 19 Car. II there was granted to the late Duke a fee farm rent of 38*l.* 13*s.* 11½*d. per an.* issuing out of the Duke's manor of Beaulieu, Newhall and Boreham, in Essex, but the same having been before granted in jointure to the then Queen (now Queen Consort) the said King granted (1669, July 14) petitioner [sic for the late Duke] a like yearly rent out of the Crown revenues of London, Middlesex and Essex till the said jointure should determine, wherefore said petitioner prayed that the Receiver of Crown Revenues for	Ibid, pp. 385-8.

This petition was referred to Sir Charles Harbord and by him reported on 1674, July 23, that such grant as aforesaid was made in 1669, but that same could not be paid by reason that because of the sale of fee farms there was not any revenue left to the Recciver of Crown Revenues for said county out of which he could pay it, and that it would be necessary to make some further provision for payment of same and of the arrears thereof from 1671, Sept. 29. It does not appear that any other provision has been so made and there is no reason against the satisfaction of this item. (5) As to the 8,250*l.* claimed by the Duke for arrears from 1678, June 24, to 1686, Sept. 29, on his pension of 1,000*l.* a year; I find that the Duke was granted said pension 1672-3, Feb. 24, as a Gentleman of the Bedchamber. At the death of Charles II there was an arrear of 6,000*l.* owing thereon for six years to 1684, Christmas. Your Majesty did command that the arrears due to the servants of Charles II should be stated with a retrenchment of two-thirds for so much as incurred after 1679, June 24. In pursuance hereof there was stated for the Duke in the book of arrears which was approved of by your Majesty in Council April 16 last the sum of 2,333*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* as in lieu of his said arrears to Christmas, 1684, and a moiety of that sum is already satisfied or directed off to his Grace and the other moiety is in a speedy course of payment out of the imposition on tobacco and sugar, with the arrears due to the other servants [of the said late King]. The 3,666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* remainder of said 6,000*l.* stands retrenched. As his said patent is for life there is a further 1,750*l.* due on this pension from 1684, Christmas, to Sept. 29 last. I must leave it to your Majesty to decide whether now to direct this sum and also whether to make good or not the said 3,666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* so retrenched. (6) As to the Duke's claim of 400*l.* for 10 years' Creation money from 1675, Christmas, to 1685, Christmas, it is certified by Mr. Mounteney and Mr. Kent, successive Cashiers of Customs, that same is unpaid for said period. (7) As to the 360*l.* claimed by him for Creation money for same period as Earl of Torrington, it is certified by the Auditor of the Receipt that same is in arrear for the period 1668, Lady day, to 1686, Lady day, which amounts to 360*l.* But I am to acquaint your Majesty that in 1679 the payment of Creation money to all the peers (which had been seldom paid in several years before that time) was wholly taken off from the revenue by Charles II, and his Majesty's order therein has been ever since punctually observed. Prefixing: said Duke's paper of demands given in to Treasurer Rochester: the items thereof being as embodied above.

	Report by same to the King on the petition of Capt. Richard Young and Samuel Hanson complaining of three judgments given irregularly against said Young and his two sureties, "each of 2,000*l.* upon one single bond of that penalty"; and of a judgment of 5,000*l.* illegally obtained against Hanson on a bond of that penalty; and of the execution of a judgment of 150*l.* formerly given against said Hanson in Barbados. I find that Hanson in 1682 applied to Charles II to be relieved of a fine of 150*l.* imposed on him by Sir Richard Dutton, Governor in Chief of Barbados; on which application the Committee of Trade and Foreign Plantations reported 1683, Nov. 3, that said fine had been irregularly set; but because the matter of which Hanson was accused was for deceitfully and fraudulently taking away several guns belonging to the King and others from off a public wharf at Barbados, which according to the verdict of the Grand Jury and Petty Jury there seemed to be very criminal, the said Committee thought the whole matter should be afresh examined by themselves, and they therefore allowed five months for transmitting records, proofs etc., and the like time was allowed to said Dutton to bring proofs etc. in defence against Hanson's other appeals made at the same time, the one being a complaint of hardship by imprisonment etc., and the other for the confirmation of a ship belonging to him in Barbados. This report of the said Committee was approved by the King, 1683, Nov. 7. It appears from an entry in the [Privy] Council Book that on the following day Hanson gave notice to Dutton that he intended to bring two actions against him at Common Law for 3,500*l.*, the one for five weeks' imprisonment, the other for his ship. Thereupon Dutton petitioned the King for his Majesty's direction as to his appearance to the said actions. It appears from the Council Book that a copy of this petition was delivered to Hanson, who gave in his answer thereto with several articles of complaint against Dutton in the name of the inhabitants of Barbados. This answer was as follows, viz.: that he, Hanson, was informed that the Council could not award damages; and finding an amicable composure refused, and that before the Council Dutton had prevailed for a five months' delay for preparation of defence, Hanson did petition for a hearing before Dutton's	Ibid, pp. 405–12.

1686.	return to Barbados. To this petition Dutton has not yet answered. Therefore having no notice of the King's pleasure that he should not proceed to law, Hanson gave notice of his action as above. Thereupon an order of Council was made 16 Nov., 1683, leaving Hanson free to elect whether to proceed against Dutton before the Council or at Common Law. Hanson elected to proceed at Common Law. Thereupon, 1683, Nov. 28, Hanson's two appeals before the Council were dismissed that Board and also the setting of a new fine upon Hanson for fraudulently buying and selling the guns was remitted to Barbados to be determined at a Court of Grand Sessions; and the bonds given by the master of the ship who brought over said Hanson on his escape out of prison (where he was at the suit of the late King) were ordered to be put in suit forthwith by the Attorney General by virtue of a law in that island forbidding masters of ships to carry off any persons thence without a ticket. Also the said Committee of Trade and Plantations had afterwards laid before them the proceeding in Barbados in the case of said Young, and on 14 Jan., 1684–5, referred same to Sir Robt. Sawyer, Attorney General, as to how far the late King was entitled to recover the penalty of said Young's bond. The Attorney General reported, 1684–5, Jan. 15, that the King or Government (" which as to this matter are said to be all one ") would be solely entitled to the penalties in all cases wherein the subjects there do not suffer particular damage and that in such [? and such] cases only are those bonds by the Act there to be applied in aid for the subjects towards damages, with remainder of the surplus thereof to the King; further that the bonds are taken in the Governor's name as a public person, and so are in trust for the King and Government and need not be assigned to entitle the suit in the Attorney [General's] name, and that the said Attorney General's suit is well brought upon any such public bonds. On 17 Jan., 1684–5, therefore, the said Committee reported, proposing that execution might issue upon the judgment obtained on said bond; and that as a further trial was ordered for Hanson's offence, inasmuch as he had given counter-security to the shipmaster to save him harmless, they saw no reason for any remission to him or the other persons concerned in said bonds. This report was approved in Council on the same day. Upon the hearing before me of this matter by Counsel, it appeared to me [Treasurer Rochester] that Young gave bond with two sureties (pursuant to an Act of Assembly of Barbados) in 2,000*l.* not to carry off any persons without the Governor's licence, and that he did carry off said Hanson, when a prisoner there at the King's suit, without such licence; further that Hanson gave Young a counterbond in 5,000*l.* to save him harmless, and said Young assigned to Charles II the said 5,000*l.* bond. Further, towards the said fine of 200*l.*, there was 150*l.* paid to Dutton and charged in said Dutton's accounts, and upon the said bonds there has been 1,200*l.* recovered and paid into the Exchequer, besides 700*l.* more which Mr. Blathwaite informs me is levied and in the sheriff's hands. At the said hearing before me it was insisted that the fine for taking the 12 guns was irregularly set, that Hanson knew nothing but that he might buy the

1686.	said guns from the person who sold them, and that when he heard otherwise he brought the guns and laid them where they were before. But inasmuch as Hanson was by a verdict in said island found guilty of fraud and deceit, and as the Committee of Trade and Plantations were sensible thereof and directed the imposing the fine in a regular manner (wherein some error in matter of form had been before committed), and as the Attorney General is of opinion that the said fine of 200*l.* was at last duly imposed, I think Hanson ought to pay the remainder of said fine and thereby to be discharged of all further trouble as to said crime. It was also alleged by petitioner's counsel that Hanson was imprisoned in Barbados for opening a letter of Sir Richard Dutton's and that he could make himself appear innocent thereof; that when he was in prison he was threatened with corporal punishment; that he could not get leave to come away and so came away without it to appeal to the King; that the law against unlicensed transport of persons was designed against the carrying away of the planters' servants or slaves, and that the bonds given in pursuance of that law were to be assigned to the persons who should suffer damage by such carrying away of servants or slaves; that the said bond of 2,000*l.* being made to the Governor was nevertheless sued in the name of the Attorney General of Barbados in the Exchequer Court there, for the use of Charles II, "which [Court] they allege was revived for that purpose," and that if it had been sued in the Common Pleas there that Court hath a power of equity and would have taken no more than the real damage; and that for one sum of 2,000*l.* there are three judgments with executions for 2,000*l.* each against Young and his two sureties, and that Hanson is underwrit by the Attorney General of Barbados for 5,000*l.* more on the above-said counterbond. In answer to the aforegoing the Attorney General of England urged that private persons or masters of ships were not to make themselves judges whether offenders were legally imprisoned by the Government; that Young contravened the above law and that there was plainly a combination between Hanson and him; that this was a damage to the King and an ill precedent; that the bond was well taken in the name of the Governor, he being there a public person in the King's behalf and that therefore it might well be sued in the name of the Attorney General of said island for the use of Charles II, and that it was very properly prosecuted in the Exchequer of said island, alleging that Court to have been as ancient as the Government there and that it may at any time be used; and that although there are several prosecutions yet if the King is satisfied one sum of 2,000*l.*, the rest will be discharged. On the whole matter I think Mr. Hanson's behaviour has not been so dutiful or fair as to incline your Majesty to forgive Mr. Young or his sureties. But I think it equitable that when said 2,000*l.* is satisfied (whereof 1,200*l.* is already paid into the Exchequer and 700*l.* more levied), that Young and his sureties be discharged all further trouble and also that Hanson be discharged from said 5,000*l.* counter bond and all prosecution thereon, and that he have liberty to come from Barbados if he be detained for no other cause than the said 5,000*l.*

It is also alleged for Hanson that a white servant who was his bailiff was taken by the sheriff and sold for 6*l.* I think the Governor of said island ought to be commanded to inquire into this and, if true, to see said white servant restored to Hanson, on payment of said 6*l.* Appending: order of reference dated Whitehall, 1685, Oct. 21, from the King to Treasurer Rochester of the petition herein from said Capt. Richard Young and Samuel Hanson, merchant, praying for a hearing of the abovesaid matter, "now that Sir Richard Dutton is in town," and that meanwhile the disposal of the 2,000*l.* levied as above may be respited.

Nov. 25.	Henry Guy to the Customs Commissioners to appoint some one to officiate in aforesaid Vincent's place during his absence.	Out Letters (General) X, pp. 34–5.
	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to same of the petition of Menaseh Mendez, Andre Lopez, Abra de Mercado, Jacob Franco Nunez and Jacob Bueno Henriques, junr., praying a grant of letters patent of denization in usual form [that is with the insertion of the grace clause granting them the privilege of] paying Custom as his Majesty's free born subjects and not as aliens "as was formerly granted to several others, but of late stopped upon pretence of being prejudicial to his Majesty's revenue of the Customs: whereas it is apparent that the whole of the aliens' duties come to a very inconsiderable sum yearly [because of] foreigners by reason of the said duty trading in freemen's names, who nevertheless dare not trade for so great sums by far as they would do were they made equal with the King's subjects, which must [would] unavoidably redound to the advancement of his Majesty's Customs."	Reference Book III, p. 413.
	Same by same to Bartholomew Fillingham, Thomas Hall, and William Lowndes of the petition of Edward Copley, shewing that his father in [16]63 became surety for one Greathead, a collector of Hearth-money, who became in arrear 1,300*l.* for moneys collected: that Greathead is since dead, so that the charge lies upon petitioner: that petitioner petitioned the [late] King for these arrears, which was granted, but could not proceed therein, finding that same had been granted to Sir Philip Lloyd: that Lloyd struck tallies for only 500*l.* of said 1,300*l.*, so that 800*l.* thereof is still in the King's disposo, the said [Lloyd's] privy seal being determined by the late King's death: therefore prays a grant thereof, as the King can never receive any benefit thereof, petitioner's estate being settled and said estate is only 100*l.* a year and maintains eight children.	Ibid, p. 415.
	Report by same to the King on the petition of Thomas Fairfax, shewing that Charles II granted to Col. Charles Fairfax, his heirs etc. for ever (for the remarkable services performed in the Restoration) a rent charge of 100*l. per an.* payable out of the Customs of Hull, "which [rent] have [has] not been paid for divers years past": that this grant is a great part of what said Col. left to provide for his family: therefore praying the King's direction herein [for payment thereof]. Hereon the Lord Treasurer reports that it appears by several letters from the late Duke of Albemarle, dated in 1659, that said Col. was under his command and very much trusted by him; and his services in the Restoration are certified by Lord Fairfax and other persons of quality. The said annuity was granted by patent of 1660, July 23, at the request of the late Duke of Albemarle. It is certified by Jno. Kent, assistant to the Receiver General and Cashier of the Customs, that the last payment thereon to Thomas Fairfax the petitioner was to 1674, June 24.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 393–4.

1686.	If your Majesty be pleased to pay said annuity, petitioner must pass a privy seal to authorise the doing thereof, "for that the Customs out of which the said annuity by the said letters patent is payable are by the death of your late most dear brother determined. And for the arrears I humbly take leave to put your Majesty in mind that in cases of the liko nature where you have been pleased to continue the annuity your Majesty has not paid the arrears."
Nov. 25.	Allowance by Treasurer Rochester of the sum of 150*l.* to William Justice in his account as Receiver for Charles II of Recusants' Forfeitures in Yorks, North and East Ridings, York City, and Kingston-upon-Hull: same to be for his charges expended in the country and for his journeys and attendance in town about the said business. 1686.	(b) Report dated 1685, July 23, to Troasurer Rochester from Richard Graham [and Philip Burton] on the abovesaid account. The extraordinary charges craved for the Receiver and deputies come to 292*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* above the salary and poundage allowed him by his Commission. We propose hereof to allow only 150*l.*, thus leaving 142*l.* 19*s.* 5*d.* to be paid into the Exchequer.
Nov. 26.	Henry Guy to the Auditor of the Receipt to issue (out of Customs money this week paid into the Exchequer) 2,000*l.* to Charles Toll in [part] repayment of his loan of 16,000*l.*	Disposition Book V, p. 63.
	Same to Mr. Stephens. Your servant has brought me this evening a letter from Sir John Tippetts et al. to Visct. Falkland desiring him to solicit Treasurer Rochester for 368*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.* to discharge 66 shipwrights and 20 caulkers at Chatham Yard; which I must wonder at, because the payment of that money was ordered on Tuesday last in the weekly disposition. If you had applied yourself to the Exchequer, you might have received the money there: and I always thought that you had applied yourself every Wednesday morning to the Exchequer to see what was ordered to the Navy on Tuesday night, since every week more or less money is ordered to the Navy. If you do not so apply, pray let me know, [so] that there may be no more of these mistakes.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 35.
	Same to Tho. Richards, undersheriff of Wilts. You have in your hands 40 marks levied on one White for a fine set on him for seditious words. You are to pay same forthwith into the Exchequer.	Ibid, p. 36.
	Same to Mr. Blathwayt enclosing the Customs Commissioners' report as below, with additional instructions proposed by them to be given to Sir Robt. Robinson, Governor of the Bermuda Island. Take care that such instructions be given accordingly. Appending: said report to the Lord Treasurer dated Custom House, London, Nov. 25 inst. In reply to Mr. Guy's letter of Oct. 26 last on the draft of instructions proposed to bo given to said Robinson touching the Acts of Trade and Navigation, we find same to agree, mutatis mutandis, with those we formerly prepared for the Governors of the other Plantations. We offer the enclosed paper [missing], which we think necessary to be added to the said instructions if approved of by your Lordship.	Ibid.

Reference by Treasurer Rochester to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Peter Batiscomb to the King; shewing that his late brother, Christopher Batiscomb, was some time since attainted and executed for high treason whereby all his lands and tenements became justly forfeit, but being mortgaged for 1,200*l.* and charged with other incumbrances long before the King's title accrued, the surplus would not amount to above 700*l.* Petitioner having been always faithful and having been much impaired in his credit by the wicked and traiterous practices of his said brother, therefore prays a grant of said forfeited estate.	Reference Book III, p. 414.
Nov. 27.	Warrant by same to Philip Ryley, sergeant at arms attending the Lord Treasurer, to make diligent search for all or any deeds, conveyances, settlements, muniments and writings whatsoever concerning the real or personal estate of Sir Robt. Peyton, who is outlawed for high treason, and to seize and bring said papers to the Lord Treasurer for manifesting the King's title to all or any part of said estate. Appending: note of papers as follows relating to said estate. (1) An indenture dated 22 Jan., 1677–8, between said Peyton and Dame Jane his wife of the one part and Richard Spicer and John Fanshaw of the other for levying a fine of divers lands to uses: with said Sir Robert's release endorsed dated 17 Oct., 1685. (2) A lease dated 13 Mar., 1685–6, between said Sir Robert Peyton and Peyton Craven: and release thereon dated 1685–6, Mar. 15. Nov. 29.	Treasurer Rochester to Mr. Harris, Regt. [Register], for an exact account of all moneys collected in the Archdeaconry of Surrey for the redemption of captives in 1680 and paid to you; the sum collected in each parish and the names of the parishes that have made no returns, so that speedy care may be taken to get in what is behind.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 39.
	Henry Guy to the officers of the Mint to report on the enclosed draft sign manual [missing] for the executors of Dame Barbarah Villiers, with the papers [missing] relating thereto.	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Graham and Mr. Burton to report on the enclosed certificate [missing] on behalf of Elias Allen et al. made to the King by the Commissioners for enquiring into concealed lands.	Ibid.
	[Treasurer Rochester] to the Bishop of Norwich. I am informed that no account can be found of moneys collected in your diocese in 1680 for redemption of captives: and though several sums have been paid [from said diocese] into the Chamber of London, yet none can tell whether the moneys collected have been truly answered until such account be sent up and compared with the payments into the said Chamber, "which was the reason the letters patent did require the Archdeacons to send up an exact of the whole to the Privy Council. I know your lordship is a stranger to the proceedings of your predecessor and his officers, but as to the method how it ought to be done your lordship well knows, being I suppose observed by your lordship in the diocese of Peterborough. All that is expected of you is to inquire of the Archdeacons or their registers or any other concerned therein. Mr. Middleton, who is very well known to you, has all the books and duplicates already sent up."	Ibid, p. 40.
	[Same] to Dr. Hammond, Canon of Christ Church, Oxford, and Archdeacon of Huntingdon. I am informed that 121*l.* collected in co. Huntingdon in 1680 for the redemption of captives was paid to Mr. Dod, since deceased, who was servant to the Bishop of Lincoln and likewise your Register. By whose order did he receive the same, and why was the money not paid to the bishop's collector in that county, "as the residue was [which was] collected in part of Hertfordshire and within the archdeaconry?" The matter must be speedily adjusted between yourself and the Bishop of Lincoln, so that the moneys may be answered into the Exchequer.	Ibid.
	Same to Sir Timothy Baldwin, kt., Chancellor of the diocese of Hereford. By your letter to Mr. Middleton it plainly appears that the above method [of accompting for the redemption collection moneys] was not observed, "for had the archdeacons sent the money to the bishop, his lordship or his secretary could presently have informed me what the sum was, collected upon the whole diocese: and if the archdeacons had sent up an exact account to the Privy Council as they were required, this trouble might	Ibid, p. 41.

Nov. 29.	[Treasurer Rochester] to Mr. Garrett, at Winchester, Secretary to the late Bishop [of Winchester]. The archdeacons [of said diocese] have not observed the method etc., ut supra. I hope you have by this time made an inquiry and that you intend to reply to Mr. Middleton's letter.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 41.
	[Same] to Mr. Holland, minister of St. George's in Stranford [? Stamford]. It appears from an account presented to me by Mr. Middleton that 5*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.*, concealed by one Henry Waters, an appraisiator [sic for apparitor], was paid into your hands to be returned to London; which you have not done. You are forthwith to answer same into the Exchequer.	Ibid.

	Same by same to the Customs Commissioners to add 20*l. per an.* to the salary of Thomas Cole, collector of Cowes port, towards clerkship and other assistance; by reason that the Isle of Wight is of late years become a very considerable place of trade, which is much increased by the new imposition on the Plantation commodities, thereby adding to the pains and labour of said Cole.	Ibid, p. 179.
	Reference by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Elizabeth Bromley for a grant of the forfeited estates of Eleanor Bonnett and William Bonnett.	Reference Book III, p. 415.
	Henry Guy to Visct. Preston [Master of the Great Wardrobe] to pay 200*l.* to Monsieur Lobell for his expenses this last voyage, "upon account of the goods which he bought and sold for his Majesty's service."	Disposition Book V, p. 66.
	Same to Auditor Aldworth to examine and state the enclosed account [missing] of Charles Fanshaw.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 44.
Nov. 30.	Same to Mr. Ange to report on the enclosed affidavit [missing] of Mr. John Wilcocks, about 90 guineas given to Dr. Pinfold [being moneys collected for the redemption of captives in Barbary].	Ibid, p. 37.
	Same to Mr. Duncombe [Cashier of Excise and Cashier of Hearthmoney]. Treasurer Rochester notices that you bring your weekly certificates [of the cash of those branches of the revenue] late on Tuesday nights. But as this day is holyday and your certificates must be made up only to last night, you are to bring this week's certificate early to-day. And for the future you are to make up your certificates only to Monday nights, so that you may always bring them to the Lord Treasurer early on Tuesday mornings. (The like letter exactly to Mr. Lilly.)	Ibid, pp. 39, 40.
	Same to the Warden and Master of the Mint. Treasurer Rochester has read your letter proposing that an engine set up by Daniel Barton may be suppressed and destroyed. Report how and by what authority this may be done.	Ibid, p. 42.

The present privy seal is by reason that by indenture dated 1666, July 30, between Charles II and William, said Earl of Kinnoul, the said Customs were demised to said Earl for 31 years from 1664, Lady day, under the rent of 240*l.* per an.: and by an indenture tripartite dated 1668, Nov. 21, between said Earl of the one part, Tho. I have been attended by Sir Christopher Wren with the patent to Knowles, under which the Duke of Buckingham claims Wallingford House and the garden adjoining, which is now building upon. Lord Ossulston for recovery of 18,712*l.* 7*s.* 1*d.* by him unduly detained from the King in the management of the Post Office; to which bill said Lord Ossulston did appear and prayed that he might have a sight of the books and papers concerning the said Office to enable him to make answer thereto; which [books] were ordered to be and were produced accordingly, and the said Ossulston did afterwards deliver his answer to Treasurer Rochester and entered into a bond of 20,000*l.* to stand by the Lord Treasurer's award therein; and the said Lord Ossulston did upon summons appear before the Lord Treasurer the 6th inst. and desired time till Monday [then] next and failing his appearance then, that I might proceed in the said reference without him, "and he not appearing yesterday according to his own appointment and the time mentioned in the said bond being almost expired," therefore the matter is referred as above to report on the whole matter of the said account. Philip Frowd, Richard Graham and Phillip Burton are to attend the said referees herein with the books and papers relating to this cause. The referees are to make Lord Ossulston all just and reasonable allowances in such manner as was made to Col. Whitley in a cause of the like nature.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, p. 418.
	Entry of Treasurer Rochester's signature of the docquet of a lease to John Tooker of a piece of land in Ryme called "le pounds Barton" and of various cottages there, parcel of the manor of Ryme and of the Duchy of Cornwall: for 99 years at rents of 20*d.* and 12*d. per an.* and fine of 100*s.* (see supra, pp. 270, 917).	Ibid, p. 419.
	Report to the King by Treasurer Rochester on the proposals of the Duke of Albemarle for discovering and working of mines in his Majesty's Plantations in America, whereby the said Duke desires a patent for 51 years of all mines royal and other mines and mineral earths within the said Plantations, and that if any particular grant be already made such patentee may be obliged to work same within three years or the patent to be void: and with liberty to said Duke to make mouths, drains, levels and all other conveyances necessary for the working such mines and with power to let same or any part thereof within said term: in consideration whereof said Duke offers the King the eighth dish of gold or silver mines neat profit and of all other mines the tenth part neat profit. Together with the abovesaid petition I [Treasurer Rochester] have also examined the petitions and proposals of Humphrey Okeover and Richd. Levett, setting forth that they are informed there are several silver mines and one gold mine in Virginia, and asking a commission for 51 years to them alone for working such mines, notwithstanding any former grant, and with liberty to carry over 100 miners and labourers, without charge to the King, to work same, and offering the King a third of the profit, and asking that the Governor be ordered to protect them from Indians and with such privileges as the Royal Company of Miners enjoy elsewhere.	Ibid, pp. 420-1.

1686.	I have referred the above to the Attorney General and William Blathwayt, and on their report I conceive it will be to your Majesty's advantage to encourage undertakers of the discovery and working of mines "which may best be effected by the great credit and fund that attends the proposal of his Grace the Duke of Albemarle." But a clause should be inserted to oblige the undertakers to open and work some mines and to procure some profit to your Majesty in each of the Plantations within a certain time, viz.: two or three years, or otherwise the patent to be void within the Plantation where such default shall happen. If a grant in Virginia be made to Okeover and Levett the same condition should be inserted. Since his first proposal the Duke of Albemarle has offered to give [the King] the six[th] dish neat of all gold and silver mines and for other minerals as before proposed. Sir Edmd. Andros, Governor of New England, has given great hopes of a considerable profit to your Majesty by his care in improving the discovery of some mines within his government, without any charge to your Majesty. The Duke of Albemarle is willing that those [New England] colonies be excepted out of his grant, provided progress therein be made as above within three years. Okeover and Levet have likewise made a further offer of the third dish neat of all gold and silver to be found by them within Virginia. This is more advantageous to your Majesty for that dominion than the Duke's offer "if their abilities (whereof I have great reason to doubt) were sufficient for such an undertaking."
Dec. 15.	Royal warrant to the Attorney General for a privy seal to discharge Sir Edmd. D'Oyly of Shottesham, co. Norfolk, of the 1,095*l.* fee due for the baronetcy conferred on his grandfather, Sir William D'Oyly, by Charles II.	King's Warrant Book XI, p. 212.

Dec. 15.	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to Sir John Buckworth, Charles Duncomb and James Hoare [late Commissioners for the office of Master and Worker of the Mint] and to the Auditors [of Imprests as auditors] of the Mint, of the petition of Henry Slingesby, esq.; petitioner shewing that before he was suspended [from his place as Master Worker of the Mint] he delivered in an estimate only of an accompt of the Dunkirk money to satisfy the Treasury Lords that he had not 2,000*l.* of that money in his hands as was maliciously alleged against him, which estimate he received from Mr. Hoare, Comptroller of the Mint, the same amounting to 325,911*l.* 4*s.* 4½*d.*, and the remedy or "shaire" [sheer] estimated only by Mr. Hoare, junr., at 1,814*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, the rest of the money being all "before that time" paid by orders and tallies excepting 4,239*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.*, remaining to be accompted for by petitioner for moneys disbursed by him for the extraordinary charges and expences in receiving, weighing, telling, melting, coining, paying etc. the 1,500,000 French crowns of silver by the king's special command; the vouchers of which [expences] were preparing and to be brought in with all speed, [petitioner none the less] not intending it should be taken for a final account in the Exchequer; but so it unfortunately happened that the whole estimate and charge did pass in the account in the Exchequer in his name without his ever seeing it or swearing to it or [his being] admitted to make his said accompt of his just and legal charges [as above], all which he has still by him and most of the particulars whereof are in a schedule hereto annexed [missing]; but unhappily it so fell out that James Hoare, junr., and petitioner's clerk and cash keeper (whom he trusted in receiving and paying his money) carried out of petitioner's office all his books etc., and suddenly died; upon which suits were brought against his [said clerk's] widow, who has ever since detained the said books etc. until about two years since she caused several of them to be delivered to petitioner; but many of the principal [books] and divers acquittances are wanting, which makes it very difficult for petitioner to make up any accompts with his Majesty and with the moneyers, melters, engineers [of the Mint] and divers importers [of bullion thither]: therefore petitioner prays to be admitted to make his additional accompt of his abovesaid expences and disbursements, and that meantime no process may issue against him.	Reference Book IV, pp. 12–13.

	Same to same to issue 1,775*l.* 8*s.* 0*d.* to Charles Fox [late Paymaster of the Forces], out of the loans on the Linen Duty Act: same being by him to be paid to the 16 companies of the Royal Regiment of Foot that came from Tangier in 1684. (Same to said Fox to so pay same for 36 days' pay.)	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Ange to forthwith pay 50*l.* to Sir Henry Browne out of any Recusants' money in your hands.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 69.

You are to consider what sum said Hay, bearer hereof, deserves for attending said prisoners and seeing them safely delivered here.	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Hewer to stop 44*l.* 18*s.* 0*d.* out of the pay of Capt. William Culliford, late of Tangier garrison, same being due to James Harwood, late one of the gunners of said garrison, for his service there.	Ibid.

	Same to same to stop out of the pay of the respective Tangier soldiers the several debts amounting in all to 9*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* due from them to John Lambard. Similarly to stop the 13*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.* similarly due to Isaac Harris, late of Tangier.	Ibid, pp. 71, 74.
	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Castillian Morris, shewing that his father was a great sufferer in the rebellion, being drawn, hanged and quartered; and petitioner being reduced to great necessity took upon him a Commission to be Receiver of Fines and Forfeitures of Recusants in Yorks, West Riding, in which office he has been at very great charge: therefore praying allowance for passing his accounts in the Exchequer.	Reference Book III, p. 420.
	Same by same to same of Richard Hart's account of his expenses in the execution of several Commissions to enquire into the rebels' estates in the West, from Hilary vacation, 1686, to Michaelmas term, 1686: the total expense being 614*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.*, towards which only 300*l.* has been received, thus leaving said Hart 314*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.* still due. Also to consider of a suitable gratuity to the Commissioners [therein], their clerks and servants.	Ibid. IV, p. 3.
	Same by same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Edwd. Cranfeild, shewing that he was bred in Barbados, spent some time under the Treasurer there, whereby he understood the accounts of the Four and a Half per cent. revenue of that Island; that by the informations which he gave to the late Treasury Lords said revenue was considerably improved; therefore being informed that Mr. Gasconge, one of the Commissioners for managing said Revenue in Barbados, was cast away [at sea]: prays to be appointed in his place.	Ibid, p. 4.
	Same by same to John Fisher of the proposal of A. B. concerning derelict lands. Prefixing: said proposal shewing that Charles II in the 16th year of his reign granted a patent to Elizabeth, Countess Dowager of Peterborough, George Howard, esq., and divers others, upon a project of gaining and maintaining certain waste and derelict lands in right of the Crown; by which patent the King allowed said patentees 8,000*l. per an.* out of the first profits that should arise [therefrom] in consideration of their great charges and trouble: that of the said patentees only George Howard now survives; that many years of the patent are run out and they have not yet made any advantage to themselves or the Crown nor paid their 10*l. per an.* rent to the King; that now A.B. etc. have found out a way by which they do not doubt to regain the said lands; but as the charge will be extraordinary great they pray a renewal to them of the above lease, and that a fourth may be added to the 8,000*l.* a year allowed to the former patentees as above; petitioners being willing to pay 100*l. per an.* rent and to account to the Exchequer for all profits arising from such recovered waste and derelict land beyond the sum that shall be granted them as above.	Ibid, p. 6.

1686. Dec. 20.	Reference by Treasurer Rochester to William Hewer of the petition of Sergt. Christ. Spalton, shewing that several soldiers in Capt. Bowes' Company at Tangier were indebted to him in several sums for meat, drink etc.; therefore praying that same may be stopped out of their pay.	Reference Book IV, p. 6.
	Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Lady Eliz. Stradling, widow of Sir Edward Stradling, shewing that her said husband was surety for his uncle, Mansell Stradling, who was debtor in 1,612*l.* to the King, for which sum her said husband's estate was extended about five years since, but proceedings were stayed, 1683–4, Feb. 26, on proposals made 1683, Dec. 1, on his behalf; that her said husband died about a month before Michaelmas, and thereupon a levari facias issued for levying 111*l.*, being the extent value for one year ending Michaelmas last on several lands settled on petitioner as jointure before the present transaction; that there is a personal estate of 500*l.* left by her husband and now in the custody of the administrator, out of which said debt ought to be levied; therefore prays an order to the sheriff to levy same out of said personal estate.	Ibid, p. 7.
	Same by same to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, of the petition of Lieut. Col. Archibald Douglas, ut supra, p. 837, and of the Attorney General's report thereon as follows. Prefixing: the said report from Sir R. Sawyer, Attorney General, dated Oct. 9 last. I am of opinion that the Forest of Arthengerthdale [Arkengarthdale], except some parcels particularly mentioned therein, did not pass to the City of London, but, upon construction of all the parts of that grant, was reserved to the Crown; and though in strictness of law upon the statute of 17 Car. I the first [sic for forest] is to be deafforested as to the exercise of the Forest Laws there, yet the soil, timber and deer are the King's, saving right of common to the tenants there; and by an express clause in the grant if the King pleases to deafforest he may improve, making reasonable allotments of part to the commoners for their common. 'Tis probable the assignees of the City have greatly encroached upon the rights of the Crown, which has received no benefit from it since the grant. If the petitioner assert the King's right at his own charge he may well deserve a term therein.	Ibid, pp. 7–8.
	Same by same to William Hewer of the petition of Jane Clark, widow of James Clark; shewing that several officers and soldiers late of Tangier are indebted to her husband in several sums for meat, drink and other necessities; therefore praying payment thereof out of the said persons' arrears [of pay].	Ibid, p. 8.
	Same by same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Frances D'Knuydt; shewing that all sorts of woollen cloth imported pay 8*s.* 10*d.*, which is more than the real value of 10 yards of cloth; by reason of which high Customs none can be brought in: therefore praying that she may have leave to bring into England 300 pieces of black woollen cloth, paying only such rates as English cloth pays outwards.	Ibid, p. 9.

	Same by same to Richard Graham and Philip Burton of the petition of Richard Ball, shewing that he is possessed, by lease from the late Visct. Stafford of certain coalworks in co. Salop near the coalworks of Francis Charlton, lately outlawed for treason; and [petitioner] having formerly upon security of said lease taken up money of one Bate, since dead, the said Charlton took advantage thereof and combining with the executors of Bate did surreptitiously get into possession of petitioner's coalworks and has over since received the profits thereof, refusing to render an account thereof to petitioner. Petitioner has been always loyal and is able to discover a great part of said Charlton's estate. Therefore prays a grant of the coalworks belonging to said Charlton.	Ibid.

	Same by same to the Clerk of the Pipe for a lease to Sir John Banks of the (manors or) rents and farms in Newendon, Betham and Browswood, co. Kent, parcel of the possessions of the Crown by exchange with the Archbishop of Canterbury: the premises being formerly demised to Reginald Poole, cardinal, for life. The present lease, with all perquisites and profits of Courts and the fishing in the river of Rhoder [Rother], to be for 31 years from date hereof under the yearly rent of 3*s.* 4*d.* Prefixing: (a) particular and memorandum of the premises made out by Auditor J. Shales. The [fee farm] rents of the premises amounting to 4*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* [per an.] were sold to said Banks, 1672, Sept. 27, by the Trustees for Fee Farms, "which rent was all I find (by any accounts before me) was ever answered to the Crown out of the premises, and out of that was yearly allowed 6*s.* 8*d.* for the bailiff's fee." (b) Ratal dated Dec. 18 inst. by Deputy Surveyor General John Fisher of said particular. Great trees, woods, royal mines and quarries and advowsons are to be excepted from the grant.	Ibid, pp. 425–6.

Hereford, Salop, Stafford, Brecon, Cardigan, Carmarthen, Glamorgan, Pembroke and Radnor after disallowance of 85*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* out of his total claims, this latter disallowed item being for poundage of 1,140*l.* payable by persons imprisoned, but not being money actually received. Prefixing: said bill as allowed 1684, July 9, by Richard Graham and P. Burton (with the exception of the above disallowed item), and as sworn to by the said Wightwick on the 10th inst. before Chief Baron Sir E. Atkyns.	Ibid, pp. 427–8.

Dec. 20.	Report by Treasurer Rochester to the King on the petition of Francis Gorman, late Ayde Major of Tangier ; petitioner shewing that he served in the King's Regiment both in France and Tangiers, first as a cadet for three years and afterwards as an ensign under Sir Edward Scot that the remainder of his time was spent in Tangier about 20 years, and that 237*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* became there due to him in the time of the Earl of Middleton's Government, etc., ut supra, p. 952 ; that he lost his employment for being a Roman Catholic ; therefore praying some pension or employment. I referred said petition to Mr. Hewer ut supra ibid, who reports that he did previously report, 1684 Dec., on petitioner's case, and therein had proposed 10*l.* to petitioner for present relief and 25*l.* per an. pension in satisfaction of said arrears, but the then Treasury Lords thought the proposal too much, and ordered him 10*l.* for relief and 15*l.* per an. pension in consideration of [a surrender of] his pretensions [to said arrears], but Charles II dying before same was settled, the present King ordered him 50*l.* in full of all his pretensions, which Hewer accordingly paid him pursuant to my warrant of 1685, Nov. 24, supra, p. 443. "And this is a true state of the petitioner's case in relation to Mr. Hewer, who is of opinion that the petitioner's poverty and being out of employment was the occasion of his reflecting on him in the forementioned petition, and that the same was not done out of any ill will towards him, having never given him any just occasion."	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 429-30.
Dec. 21.	Royal warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a privy seal for a grant to William Greenwood and Antho. Leyborne, gent., of the several sums of 364*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* and 1,000*l.* as follows, or what other sums shall appear to be due to the King upon the making up of the accounts [of the Four and a Half per cent. Duty] as follow : to hold to the use of them and their executors and assigns for ever, with power to them to recover said sums either in the King's name or their own and with the aid of the Exchequer and with power to grant releases or acquittances : all by reason that Charles II did by indenture dated 1670, Sept. 9, demise to Robert Spencer, Sir Cha. Wheeler, bart. (since deceased), Jno. Strode (since deceased), and George Marshe (likewise deceased), the Four and a Half per cent. Duty in Barbados for seven years from 1672, Christmas, at 7,000*l.* per an. rent ; and by privy seal dated 1678–9, Mar. 19, did appoint that said Spencer, Wheeler and Strode should be accomptants for said duties for said term and should be acquitted of said rent on their paying what should be due by account, they having met with great losses in captures at sea and otherwise during the	King's Warrant Book XI, pp. 221–4.

Dutch war and by a violent plague and hurricane in Barbados and great disturbances to their officers in settling that farm in Barbados; and two several accounts have been made by said Spencer, Wheeler and Strode, one for four years, 1670, Christmas, to 1674, Christmas, the other for 1674, Christmas, to 1677, Christmas, both which accounts were declared by the late Treasury Lords, 1682, July 4: by which accounts it appeared that they were then indebted to the King in 1,614*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* at the foot of the last of the said accounts, besides 100*l.* to the executors of Richard Aldworth [as] auditor; further that by a state made up Sept. 8 last by William Blathwayte, it appears that several sums amounting to 1,250*l.* have been paid into the Exchequer since the said declaration, and the said 100*l.* has also been paid to said executors; thus leaving still due to the King 364*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* And further by another indenture dated 1670, Sept. 9, Charles II demised to the said John Strode the said Duty in the Leeward Isles for the like term at 700*l.* per an. rent, and the account of his rent thereunder has been declared 1682, July 4, from which said Strode appeared indebted 2,829*l.* 6*s.* 0½*d.* to the King; whereof by an account made up Sept. 30 last by said Blathwayte, there has been paid into the Exchequer 1,829*l.* 6*s.* 0½*d.* since said declaration, thus leaving 1,000*l.* still due to the King, which said two balances are the sums hereinabove granted. The present grant is to contain a proviso that it shall not extend to pass the parcels of Muscovado sugars which are or were in the hands of the collectors [of said Duty], and which were assigned to Charles II by the said Farmers or accomptants by assignment dated 1681, July 11.

	Warrant [by Treasurer Rochester] to the Customs Commissioners to observe the orders already given Oct. 25 last, supra pp. 955–6, concerning the accompts of the Accomptant General of the Customs: Mr. Lytcott, the present Accomptant General, having desired to be informed whether there should be four quarterly acccounts made up so exactly as to be delivered to the Auditor of Imprests instead of the [present] yearly account; and representing that in such case there must be a new Commission directing him so to do and that there is a multiplicity of business already performed in his office and such quarterly accounts would occasion much more. Treasurer Rochester finds in his said orders no manner of direction for passing such quarterly accounts with the Auditor, either by express word or implication. Lytcott is to make up his Customs accounts annually [as heretofore] and there is no necessity for renewing his or the Receiver General's patents upon that occasion. "But forasmuch as the particular collectors (according to the representation which you lately made to me) have been all along obliged by their bonds to give the Accomptant General an account of their receipts at the four usual feasts or within 14 days after (if thereto required) and that at Michaelmas in every year or within 30 days after they should fully pay in, discharge and clear their accounts for the preceding year, and I have directed in my said orders that the said collectors be obliged to give their quarterly accounts to the Accountant General at the times limited peremptorily without making it necessary that they should be thereunto required, and that they shall make full payment, discharge and clear their accounts at every quarter day or within 30 days after, whereby it is plain that I have made little or no addition to what was before the duty of the collectors supposing they were always to transmit quarterly accounts and not to keep the King's money in their hands; and it seeming unreasonable to me that the transmitting and clearing their accounts within a convenient time after the end of every quarter (if their accounts be duly kept and their cash honestly paid or remitted) should be a work of greater difficulty than to have it deferred to be done at the end of every year; and conceiving that a due compliance with my said former directions by the collectors will be for his Majesty's service and so far from giving unnecessary trouble to the Accountant General that it will enable him to make better and speedier representations from time to time of the proceeds of the [Customs] revenue and to pass the general account [of the Customs] sooner" therefore the said orders are hereby to be duly observed.	Out Letters (Customs) XI, p. 189.

	Treasurer Rochester to the Barons of the Exchequer. An order was made in the Exchequer Court last Michaelmas term for staying process on the forfeited recognisances, amounting to 320*l.*, of Jeremiah Clutterbuck and William Hutsell as manueaptors for Zachariah Humphreys, Arthur Lawrence, Richd. Sheere and Bridgett Evely on the Statute of Uniformity and that meantime application should be made to me for their discharge by the Court. The said Sheeres, Humphreys, Evely and Clutterbuck (Lawrence being alleged to be dead) have petitioned me, showing that on their indictment for not coming to church one month they employed an attorney, but the King's proclamation of pardon coming out afterwards they hoped, and were advised, that they were discharged, but have since been followed with process, the proceedings being originally for not coming to church. On the report of the 20th inst. from Richard Graham and Philip Burton I desire that they may be discharged from said recognisances.	Ibid, p. 84.
	Report to the King from Treasurer Rochester on the petition of the Earl of Bath ut infra. By several original papers, etc. it appears that Charles II, in consideration of petitioner's many eminent services and especially for his prudent and faithful transactions in concluding the treaty with General Monck in order to the King's Restoration without any conditions imposed, did promise petitioner the office of Groom of the Stole and the dignity of an Earl and to pay all his and his father's debts contracted in the Crown's service in the late unhappy wars and also to bestow an estate of inheritance to the value of at least 3,000*l. per an.* ; which promises are expressed in a writing under the signet and sign manual of said King Charles II, countersigned by Sir Edward Nicholas, then Secretary of State, and dated at Brussels 1660, April 2 : Further soon after his arrival in England Charles II by another signet and sign manual, countersigned by Secretary Morrice and dated Whitehall, 1661, Dec. 18, renewed the said promise of paying the debts of petitioner and his father not exceeding 25,000*l.*, to which they were ascertained to amount, and to settle the 3,000*l. per an.* on petitioner and his heirs. In pursuance of these promises petitioner was created an Earl and 12 or 13 years afterwards by patent dated 1673, Aug. 16, a perpetual annuity of 3,000*l.* was granted him and his heirs from 1672, Sept. 29, out of the revenue of the Duchy of Cornwall or, failing that, out of the Hereditary Excise in Cornwall, Devon and Exeter, or, failing that, out of the Exchequer; the said settlement being advised by Treasurer Clifford in a report	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 437–9, 440*a–b*.

In accordance with said patent said annuity has been paid up to 1684, Sept. 29. Further, upon the death of the Duke of Somerset not long after the Restoration, petitioner was sworn Groom of the Stole and First Gentleman of the Bedchamber, and some questions arising concerning the profits of the office it was made appear to the King that in the times of Charles I the Earls of Carlisle and Holland, successively Grooms of the Stole, received in pensions and other profits above 5,000*l. per an.*; and thereupon Charles II by a sign manual order signified his pleasure by the advice of the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treasurer and his two Principal Secretaries of State, that petitioner should enjoy as the just perquisites of his said place 5,000*l.* yearly over and above his diet and board wages, viz. 2,000*l. per an.* as a pension out of the Customs, 2,000*l. per an.* as a fee or salary out of the Jewel House in [lieu of] plate (or in default thereof out of the Exchequer) and 1,000*l. per an.* as a salary, fee or livery out of the Great Wardrobe (or in default thereof out of the Exchequer) and that petitioner might take forth a patent for said place for life. The said pension of 2,000*l. per an.* was accordingly granted by patent of 1661, Oct. 16, as from 1660, June 24, for life out of the Customs or failing that out of the Exchequer. On this pension there is an arrear of 12,000*l.* for six years ending at 1685, Lady day. The 2,000*l. per an.* out of the Jewel House and 1,000*l. per an.* out of the Wardrobe were granted by patent dated 1669 (1668), June 1, for life. On these there is an arrear of 17,250*l.* for 5¾ years to 1685, Lady day; all the said arrears being certified by the Auditor of the Receipt Mar. 30 last. The total arrears are thus 29,250*l.*, of which petitioner prays payment of a moiety, viz. 14,625*l.* On Feb. 26 last the Attorney General certified his opinion that the said pensions do continue and are well granted and the discharge of his service or cesser of his office by the death of Charles II will not in law determine the grants. As to the payments of the debts of petitioner and his father, Charles II did by privy seal dated 1675, Aug. 9, grant him 25,000*l.* according to the said promise to be paid with 6 per cent. interest from 1673, Mar. 25; to be payable out of the Customs or, in default thereof, out of the Exchequer. Neither the said sum nor the interest thereon appear to have been paid out of the Customs. The above is a statement of petitioner's case as it appeared to me, Treasurer Rochester, on the 20th June, 1685, when petitioner was commanded into the West for service in the late rebellion. Since then he has had a warrant for 9,500*l.* in part of his arrears as a Gentleman of the Bedchamber, payable out of the imposition on tobacco and sugar, and has received three-quarters thereof and the remaining quarter is in a speedy course of payment. Appending: petition of said Earl of Bath to the King and thereon order of reference dated Whitehall, 1684–5, Mar. 16, to Treasurer Rochester, the King

1686.	having a gracious sense of petitioner's services and being willing that he should receive all just and reasonable satisfaction. The petition sets out the facts as above and adds that by reason of receiving nothing upon the above [25,000*l.*] privy seal petitioner has been forced to sell part of his estate since the Restoration (as he had done a greater part before it) and to encumber the rest to discharge those public debts for which said privy seal was granted, and has contracted several other debts for the support of his family because of the arrears on his pensions as above. Further, petitioner has now to his unspeakable grief been dismissed his office though his predecessors therein have held same for life; which has increased the importunity of his creditors since he, and he almost alone, among the late King's Household had the misfortune to be dismissed and especially now when those others are restored and do enjoy their former places. "But such was your Majesty's goodness that at the time you thought fit to dispose of the execution of the said office to another you were pleased to promise your petitioner some recompence for the same and that his pensions and salaries should be duly paid according to the true intent of the said letters patent by which they were granted." Therefore prays a moiety of his arrears and the settling and securing of the remaining moiety, the said privy seal and the growing payments of his pensions and salaries, which will prevent those wants and pressing necessities which will otherwise inevitably happen to the utter ruin of petitioner.

In place thereof petitioner has now made a discovery of certain lands in Cheshire demised by the late King to Mary Grenwell and 200 acres of other lands called Wallasey Pool in said county overflowed by the sea. Therefore prays a lease of said lands.	Reference Book III, p. 264.

	Same to the Earl of Middleton. I have read your letter of the 30th ult. concerning the petition of William Darnell, Jno. Darnell and Patrick Whitty. What Treasurer Rochester desired to know by my letter of the 28th ult. was the sum which petitioners reasonably deserved for their services. Please certify this.	Ibid.
	Same to Sir Christopher Wren to see that such repairs as follows be done at the Mews as you certify to be necessary in your report of Nov. 16 last. Appending: detailed schedule of said repairs, viz. in the stable and lodging of Sourton, coachman; Dormer's stable where the Queen's travelling set of horses stand; the stable of Claire, coachman; the stable of Dormer, where the town set [of horses] stand; the stable of Hooper, coachman; ditto of Dixy, coachman; ditto of Eggerton, coachman; ditto of Welsh, coachman; ditto of the Master of the Horse; the back gates of the Mews (a new pair of gates all iron work; and to pave and make good the way adjoining, otherwise people cannot pass); Mr. Buckingham's house (the opening and shutting of this gate hath much impaired the adjoining house which if not repaired is in danger of falling down); the house of Dix, his Majesty's own coachman; the King's Pad Stable and Green Mews; the dunghill yards; the stable belonging to the Master of the Horse to the Queen; the house of Doumer, coachman; the house of Welsh, coachman; the paving in Hedge Lane before the house of the Master of the Horse; three new coach houses to be built against the Hay barn, "there being not sufficient in the Mews for their Majesties' coaches, some now standing exposed to the weather openly"; the cistern to be railed in and new lock and keys for the horse pond to prevent the town horses and diseased horses from washing there; the house of Mr. Pudsey, the yeoman rider, and Mr. Lewis, the riding purveyor; the lodgings of Mr. Naylor;	Ibid, pp. 81–3.

Jan. 3.	Treasurer Rochester to the Sheriff of co. Somerset. Reginald Tucker, who was in the late rebellion, is now taken and in prison and to be tried the next Assizes. If you can find any part of his personal estate you are to secure it for the King to prevent spoil and if the lands are untenanted take care that no waste be committed and no rents paid till the trial be over. I recommend to you Edward Cheeke of Brereton for the management of this affair.	Out Letters (General) X, p. 85.

[?]	Same by same to Bartho. Fillingham, Thomas Hall, William Lowndes, Philip Ryley, Agents [for the Arrears of Taxes], and to Robt. Jan. 3.	Warrant by same to the Clerk of the Pipe, for a lease to myself [Treasurer Rochester], my executors, etc. [struck through and replaced by] William Shaw, his executors, etc. [as trustee and nominee of Treasurer Rochester] of the mansion house in the parish of St. Margaret's, Westminster, and adjoining the Sphaeristerium or Cockpit there and late in the tenure of Thomas Cooke, esq., together with a piece of land or yard adjoining, 62 feet in length: all as demised 1675, July 30, inter al. to Charles Cornwallis, esq., now deceased, in trust for the said Cook and as assigned to William Shaw by indenture under the hand of Thomas Cooke and Sir Rice Rudd, bart., of Aberglasney, co. Carmarthen, and Mary Williams of Arbermarles [Abermarlais], co. Carmarthen, spinster, surviving executor of Sir Francis Cornwallis, heir of the said Charles Cornwallis. Likewise of another mansion house in the above-said parish and adjoining the abovesaid premises and near the north end of King Street, extending thence 78 feet and south and west adjoining an angle of the Privy Garden and extending 46 feet in breadth and abutting north on the said Garden and east on the mansion house now in the tenure of Henry Guy; the said premises being now in the occupation of said Earl of Rochester. The present lease to be for 31 years from date hereof for the latter set of premises which are out of lease and for 21 years from 1697, Lady day, for the premises purchased of said Cooke et al.: the rent of the whole to be 6*s.* 8*d. per an.*: but with a clause of resumption to the Crown on payment of	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 435–6.

Jan. 3.	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester to the Deputy Surveyor of Crown Lands for a particular of the premises (Sutton Pool) as follow with a view to a lease thereof to Richard, Lord Arundell of Trerice under the Exchequer seal for 11 years in reversion of the term in being upon both the old leases, at the rent of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d. per an.* reserved upon the last lease and without fine, but all arrears on both the old rents (viz. of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d. per an.* and 40*s. per an.*) to be first paid. Prefixing : report dated Dec. 20 last from John Fisher, said Deputy Surveyor General, on said Lord Arundell's petition, ut supra, p. 595. Charles II by lease dated 1660–1, Feb. 7, granted to petitioner the water and soil called Sutton Pool with its appurtenances near Plymouth for 31 years at 45*l. per an.* rent ; and his Lordship met with very great opposition from that town and expended very much money in law suits in asserting the King's title ; and for his further encouragement the King granted him in 1676, August, a second lease for 15 years more with the rent of 45*l.* reduced to the old rent of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* and fine of 50*l.* and 221*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* for taking off the increased rent, which fines appear to have been remitted as they are not mentioned in the lease, though he then cleared all the arrears of rent for the 16 years past at the full rate of 45*l. per an.*, though upon a survey about that time they did not fully arise to that value. In both leases there was liberty to build houses and warehouses upon the premises, but no houses have been yet erected. The new lease may pass under the Exchequer seal, which the Act of Parliament admits of, [the premises] being within the Duchy of Cornwall. Petitioner has not yet been able to recover quiet possession [of the premises] or the due profits incident thereto. There is an increased rent of 40*s. per an.* on a tenement in Crannow in the manor of Treworgie formerly assigned by Henry Seymour to said Lord Arundell. The arrears hereon were cleared by his lordship on the renewal in 1676 of the lease of Sutton Pool and same is in arrear since then.	Warrants not Relating to Money XI, pp. 444–6.
	Report by same to the King on the petition of Richard, Earl of Ranelagh, ut supra, Calendar of Treasury Books, Vol. VII, pp. 1422–4. I find that the late King granted to petitioner and William, late Lord Brereton, a privy seal dated 1673, July 12, for 8,397*l.* 2*s.* 4½*d.* out of the revenue of Barbados, that sum being due from the King to their father-in-law Francis, Lord Willoughby of Parham : that in pursuance thereof tallies were struck for 5,638*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.* thereon, but for the remainder of 2,758*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.* no tallies were struck, all further proceedings upon the said privy seal	Ibid, pp. 447–9.

The present petitioner is threatened with the execution of this decree. I think that petitioner has right to receive the 2,758*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.* remaining of said privy seal towards enabling him to pay what is justly due from him under said decree: said remainder to be payable out of the revenue of Barbados and the Leeward Isles accruing for this next year ending 1687, Dec. 25, after payment of the established charge of the Government of said islands for said year, "by which time it is humbly conceived all the anticipations on that branch of your Majesty's revenue on account of the charge of that government will be fully cleared and paid off." As to the second part of petitioner's prayer, it is not possible at this time for me to report on it as I referred same to the Auditors of Imprests, who have not yet reported thereon. Appending: said petition, in substance ut supra ibid. save that the prayer of the petition is for payment of 2,758*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.* ut supra, and (2) for an examination whether the 2,867*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* decreed to be paid ut supra out of petitioner's privy seal is included in the accompt made up of the debt due from the late King to Francis late Lord Willoughby. (b) Reference, dated Whitehall Nov. 4 last, from the King to Treasurer Rochester of said petition.

All moneys levied on them and not answered to the King are to be restored; and the sheriffs charged therewith are to be discharged of same as by the Lord Treasurer's warrant of 1685, July 7, supra, p. 255. Appending: schedule of said Recusants. *co. Jan. 4.	Warrant by Treasurer Rochester to Auditor Done to allow 6,341*l.* 18*s.* 7*d.* to Samuel Pepys in his account as Treasurer of the late Garrison of Tangier, being after the rate of 2*d.* per piece of Eight and 1*d.* on each shilling that was by him issued for the pay of said Garrison: the same being in proportion to what was allowed to Mr. Povey, late Treasurer to said Garrison, upon his receipts and issues for the like service.				Warrants not Relating to Money XI, p. 450.
	Award by same in the case of John Lord Ossulston, against whom et al. Sir Robert Sawyer, Attorney General, exhibited an English bill in the Exchequer in Easter term 2 James II, for the recovery of about 20,000*l.* received by said Lord out of the late King's treasure under colour and pretence of the said King's privy seal for postage of letters: to which bill said Lord appeared, but applied to his Majesty offering to submit to his Majesty's determination in the premises; whereupon the King referred "his Majesty's demands in the said bill" to Treasurer Rochester, to which said Lord Ossulston consented and gave bond in 20,000*l.* Nov. 3 last to stand by the Lord Treasurer's award.				Ibid, pp. 462–4.
	Thereupon Treasurer Rochester has been attended by the Agents [for Arrears of Taxes] on behalf of the King who have exhibited a charge against said Lord Ossulston of 15,588*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* received by him out of the Exchequer in the name of Henry, late Earl of Arlington, for postage of letters between Mich., 1666,

1686–7.	and Mich., 1672, the time of said Lord Ossulston's sub-farm of the Post Office. After hearing said Lord thercon, I [Treasurer Rochester] find that he is and ought to stand charged with said sum of 15,588*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* On his craving several allowances out of same I have perused the indenture tripartite dated 1666, Dec. 22, between the present King (then Duke of York) of the first part, Henry Earl of Arlington and John Lord Berkeley (both since deceased) of the second part, and Mary Countess of Falmouth (since deceased) of the third part, wherein said Duke of York let to farm to said Lords Arlington and Berkelcy the yearly rents and payments therein expressed, with a covenant on their part "that all and singular the letters, pacquetts and despatches ordinary and extraordinary directed or to be directed to or from his late Majesty, his heirs or successors, or from or to the Lord High Admiral of England for the time being, or from or to the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, or from or to the Lord Treasurer of England or Commissioners of the Treasury for the time being, or from or to the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports for the time being, or from or to the Secretaries of State or either of them for the time being, and also the simple inland letters only of the members of the then present Parliament during the continuance of the session of that Parliament should be conveyed or carried either by the common or ordinary mail or other speedy and safe passage, free of and from the payment of any rate or postage or other charges whatsoever." And on considering that five years of the said [Arlington's] term of ten years in the said Post Office and all the profits and advantages thereby were assigned to said Lord Ossulston under the rents and covenants cxpressed in the said indenture tripartite and that he enjoyed same: and that in the said time he received said 15,588*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.*, out of the King's treasure, the greatest part whereof was for the very letters, pacquctts and despatches that ought by the covenant to have been conveyed free: and further also on considering the certificate of Auditors John Phelips and Thomas Done as to said Ossulston's demands of defalcations (in which certificate they state that he ought to be allowed only 114*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*), I do think fit and do hereby decide in accordance with the King's directions to allow said Lord Ossulston 3,212*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.* as a proportionable allowance in gross upon all his demands; this incrcase in the allowance to him being upon consideration of the King's bounty to Col. Whitley in a case of the same nature, supra, pp. 460–2, the King having therein directed larger allowances to be made to Whitley than he could have had by law, "who being charged with the sum of 28,835*l.* 19*s.* 7*d.* received by him in the said manner by colour of the said privy seal, the aforesaid auditors to whom that accompt was referred could allow him but 995*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.*, his Majesty was nevertheless graciously pleased to impower me to increase that sum to the sum of 5,943*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.*" After the abovcsaid deduction Lord Ossulston remains in debt to the King 12,375*l.* 17*s.* 3*d.*, which he is hereby awarded to pay in full, a moiety thereof on April 4 next and the remaining moiety on July 4 next. His bond as above to be delivered up on his completing said payment.
